The Jungle, Japanese and the British Commonwealth Armies at War, 1941-45 Tim Moreman, 2013-04-15 This book focuses on the British Commonwealth armies in SE Asia and the SW Pacific during the Second World War which following the disastrous Malayan and Burma campaigns had to hurriedly re train re equip and re organise their demoralised troops to fight a conventional jungle war against the Imperial Japanese Army IJA British Indian and Australian troops faced formidable problems conducting operations across inaccessible rugged and jungle covered mountains on the borders of Burma in New Guinea and on the islands of the SW Pacific Yet within a remarkably short time they adapted to the exigencies of conventional jungle warfare and later inflicted shattering defeats on the Japanese This study will trace how the military effectiveness of the Australian Army and the last great imperial British Army in SE Asia was so dramatically transformed with particular attention to the two key factors of tactical doctrine and specialised training in jungle warfare It will closely examine how lessons were learnt and passed on between the British Indian and Australian armies The book will also briefly cover the various changes in military organisation medical support and equipment introduced by the military authorities in SE Asia and Australia as well as covering the techniques evolved to deliver effective air support to ground troops To demonstrate the importance of these changes the battlefield performance of imperial troops in such contrasting operations as the First Arakan Campaign fighting along the Kokoda Trail and the defeat of the IJA at Imphal and Kohima will be described in detail

War by Stealth Alan Powell, 1996 The intriguing and daring story of the Australian coast watchers in New Britain and the Solomon Islands during World War II is fairly well known but they were part of a wider organisation The Allied Intelligence Bureau was General MacArthur s intelligence special operations and field propaganda unit in the Pacific War 1942 45 The AIB was unique in its multinational composition Under American leadership it included British Dutch Australian New Zealand and Canadian members although many of the leaders and most of the field operatives were Australian Its area of operations stretched from New Guinea to the Solomon Islands and from Indonesia including Borneo to the Asian mainland Using much newly released formerly secret archival material from Britain the USA and Australia this new full scale study of the AIB examines for the first time relations between operatives and native peoples a relationship critical for the success or failure of missions that were often appallingly dangerous It also lays bare the power struggles within the organisation itself conflicts over national military and personal interests that were constant and intense heightened by the conduct of war at a time that was without doubt the most desperate in Australian history Military Aspects of the West New Guinea Dispute, 1958-1962 Ian MacFarling,1990
