Computing Anticipatory Systems: CASYS'98 - Second International Conference Daniel M. Dubois, 1999-03-26 This book deals with anticipatory systems an emergent new paradigm in systems research A computing anticipatory system is a system which contains a model for computing its current state as a function of future potential states anticipated by this model New conceptual mathematical and computational tools are presented in this book for modelling such anticipatory systems

Handbook of Process Algebra J.A. Bergstra, A. Ponse, S.A. Smolka, 2001-03-16 Process Algebra is a formal description technique for complex computer systems especially those involving communicating concurrently executing components It is a subject that concurrently touches many topic areas of computer science and discrete math including system design notations logic concurrency theory specification and verification operational semantics algorithms complexity theory and of course algebra This Handbook documents the fate of process algebra since its inception in the late 1970 s to the present It is intended to serve as a reference source for researchers students and system designers and engineers interested in either the theory of process algebra or in learning what process algebra brings to the table as a formal system description and verification technique The Handbook is divided into six parts spanning a total of 19 self contained Chapters The organization is as follows Part 1 consisting of four chapters covers a broad swath of the basic theory of process algebra Part 2 contains two chapters devoted to the sub specialization of process algebra known as finite state processes while the three chapters of Part 3 look at infinite state processes value passing processes and mobile processes in particular Part 4 also three chapters in length explores several extensions to process algebra including real time probability and priority The four chapters of Part 5 examine non interleaving process algebras while Part 6 s three chapters address process algebra tools and applications

Index of Conference Proceedings ,1993 Handbook of Signal Processing Systems Shuvra S. Bhattacharyya,Ed F. Deprettere,Rainer Leupers,Jarmo Takala,2018-10-13 In this new edition of the Handbook of Signal Processing Systems many of the chapters from the previous editions have been updated and several new chapters have been added The new contributions include chapters on signal processing methods for light field displays throughput analysis of dataflow graphs modeling for reconfigurable signal processing systems fast Fourier transform architectures deep neural networks programmable architectures for histogram of oriented gradients processing high dynamic range video coding system on chip architectures for data analytics analysis of finite word length effects in fixed point systems and models of architecture There are more than 700 tables and illustrations in this edition over 300 are in color This new edition of the handbook is organized in three parts Part I motivates representative applications that drive and apply state of the art methods for design and implementation of signal processing systems Part II discusses architectures for implementing these applications and Part III focuses on compilers as well as models of computation and their associated design tools and methodologies

Optimal Interprocedural Program Optimization Jens Knoop,2003-06-26 Starting from the intraprocedural basic case this monograph focuses on interprocedural optimization It emphasizes the analogies and essential differences between intraprocedural and interprocedural optimization and offers cookbook style support for constructing the underlying algorithms It is aimed at compiler constructors and researchers interested in the systematic transfer of intraprocedural optimizations to the interprocedural setting as well as students seeking a gentle introduction to the field

Parallel and Distributed Computing Handbook Albert Y. Zomaya,1996 With over 1 000 pages and a wealth of illustrations and data tables this handbook offers readers the first information source with the scope to encompass the parallel and distributed computing revolution Written by an international team of experts the book summarizes the current state of the art interprets the most promising trends and spotlights commercial applications

Proceedings of the International Conference on Parallel and Distributed Processing Techniques (Japan),1997

and Applications Hamid R. Arabnia,1998      Service Engineering Schahram Dustdar,Fei Li,2010-10-22 Service engineering is increasingly posing challenges to traditional software engineering methodologies including specification modeling architecture and verification just to name a few On the other hand the latest advancements in software engineering are continuously leveraged in Service Engineering research especially in the design and implementation of service oriented systems Several mutual impacts between service engineering and software engineering could be observed in the last decade and many research efforts have been devoted to the field However in spite of the considerable efforts and significant contributions few have attempted to summarize the research results systematically      Programming Languages and Systems ,1996      CONCUR ... ,1994      Programming Concepts, Methods and Calculi E.-R. Olderog,1994      Object Orientation with Parallelism and Persistence Burkhard Freitag,1996-09-30 Papers from an April 1995 seminar integrate research in programming languages and databases focusing on object orientation with parallelism Subjects include an object based language correct transformational design of concurrent search structures specification and properties of concurrent objects co algebraic specification a unified theory for classical and advanced transaction models and design and implementation of process oriented environments with brokers and services Of interest to researchers and professionals working in software engineering programming and database systems Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Computer-aided Verification ,2003      Communicating Process Architectures 2004 Ian East,J. Martin,P.H. Welch,2004 Communicating Process Architecture CPA describes an approach to system development that is process oriented It makes no great distinction between hardware and software It has a major root in the theory of Communicating Sequential Processes CSP However the underlying theory is not limited to CSP The importance of mobility of both channel and process within a network sees integration with ideas from the calculus Other formalisms are also exploited such as BSP and MPI The focus is on sound methods for the engineering of significant concurrent systems including those that are distributed across the Internet or within a single chip and or software scheduled on a single execution unit Traditionally at CPA the emphasis has been on theory and practice developing and applying tools based upon CSP and related theories to build high integrity systems of significant size In particular interest focuses on achieving scalability and security against error The development of Java C and C libraries to facilitate secure concurrent programming using mainstream languages has allowed CPA to continue and proliferate This work continues in support of the engineering of distributed applications Recently there has been greater reference to theory and its more direct application to programming systems and languages In this volume the formal CSP is very well presented The papers provide a healthy mixture of the academic and commercial software and hardware application and infrastructure which reflects the nature of the discipline
