The World According to Hollywood, 1918-1939 Ruth Vasey, 1997 The most visible cultural institution on earth between the World Wars the Hollywood movie industry tried to satisfy worldwide audiences of vastly different cultural religious and political persuasions The World According to Hollywood shows how the industry's self regulation shaped the content of films to make them salable in as many markets as possible In the process Hollywood created an idiosyncratic vision of the world that was glamorous and exotic but also oddly narrow Ruth Vasey shows how the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America MPPDA by implementing such strategies as the industry's Production Code ensured that domestic and foreign distribution took place with a minimum of censorship or consumer resistance Drawing upon MPPDA archives studio records trade papers and the records of the U S Department of Commerce Vasey reveals the ways the MPPDA influenced the representation of sex violence religion foreign and domestic politics corporate capitalism ethnic minorities and the conduct of professional classes Vasey is the first scholar to document fully how the demands of the global market frequently dictated film content and created the movies homogenized picture of social and racial characteristics in both urban America and the world beyond She uncovers telling evidence of scripts and treatments that were abandoned before or during the course of production because of content that might offend foreign markets Among the fascinating points she discusses is Hollywood s frequent use of imaginary countries as story locales resulting from a deliberate business policy of avoiding realistic depictions of actual countries She argues that foreign governments perceived movies not just as articles of trade but as potential commercial and political emissaries of the United States Just as Hollywood had to persuade its domestic audiences that its products were morally sound its domination of world markets depended on its ability to create a culturally and politically acceptable product The Country Gentleman ,1930

Novel Gazing Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick,1997-12-15 Novel Gazing is the first collection of queer criticism on the history of the novel The contributors to this volume navigate new territory in literary theory with essays that implicitly challenge the hermeneutic of suspicion widespread in current critical theory In a stunning introductory essay Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick delineates the possibilities for a criticism that would be reparative rather than cynical or paranoid The startlingly imaginative essays in the volume explore new critical practices that can weave the pleasures and disorientations of reading into the fabric of queer analyses Through discussions of a diverse array of British French and American novels including major canonical novels best sellers children s fiction and science fiction these essays explore queer worlds of taste texture joy and ennui focusing on such subjects as flogging wizardry exorcism dance Zionist desire and Internet sexuality Interpreting the works of authors as diverse as Benjamin Constant Toni Morrison T H White and William Gibson along with canonical queer modernists such as James Proust Woolf and Cather contributors reveal the wealth of ways in which selves and communities succeed in extracting sustenance from the objects of a culture whose avowed desire has often been not to sustain them The dramatic reframing that these essays perform will make the significance of Novel Gazing extend beyond the scope of queer studies to literary criticism in general Contributors Stephen Barber Renu Bora Anne Chandler James Creech Tyler Curtain Jonathan Goldberg Joseph Litvak Michael Lucey Jeff Nunokawa Cindy Patton Jacob Press Robert F Reid Pharr Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick Melissa Solomon Kathryn Bond Stockton John Vincent Maurice Wallace Barry Weller Outlook and Independent

a hardworking writer and master of many genres bravely unwilling to conform to conventional values As Greene illustrates Hervey s novels short stories nonfiction books and film scripts contain complex mixtures of history and thinly disguised homoerotic situations and themes They blend local color naturalism melodrama and psychological and sexual truths that provide a view to the circles in which he moved Living openly with his male lover in Savannah Georgia and Charleston South Carolina Hervey set novels in these cities that scandalized the locals and critics as well He challenged the sexual mores of his day sometimes subtly and at other times brazenly presenting texts that told one story to gay male readers while still courting a mainstream audience His novels and nonfiction may have been coded and thus escaped detection in their day but twenty first century readers can decipher them easily Greene also discusses Hervey s travel books and successful Hollywood scriptwriting as well as his use of exotic elements from Asian cultures The iconic film Shanghai Express starring Marlene Dietrich was based on one of his original stories He also wrote some of the first travel books on Indochina with descriptions of male and female prostitution and allusions to his own sexual adventures which still make for sensational reading today Despite Hervey s output and his perseverance in presenting gay characters and themes as openly as he could he has not been included in any survey of twentieth century gay writers Greene now rectifies this omission providing the first book length study of Hervey s life and work and the first scholarly attention to him in more than fifty years It furthers our understanding of gay life in the South as well as the impact of gay artists on popular culture in the first half of the twentieth century
