Comparative Mass Media Systems:

Comparing Media Systems Beyond the Western World Daniel C. Hallin, Paolo Mancini, 2011-11-28 Comparing Media Systems Beyond the Western World offers a broad exploration of the conceptual foundations for comparative analysis of media and politics globally. It takes as its point of departure the widely used framework of Hallin and Mancini's Comparing Media Systems, exploring how the concepts and methods of their analysis do and do not prove useful when applied beyond the original focus of their most similar systems design and the West European and North American cases it encompassed. It is intended both to use a wider range of cases to interrogate and clarify the conceptual framework of Comparing Media Systems and to propose new models, concepts, and approaches that will be useful for dealing with non-Western media systems and with processes of political transition. Comparing Media Systems Beyond the Western World covers among other cases Brazil, China, Israel, Lebanon, Lithuania, Poland, Russia, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, and Thailand. Comparing Media Systems Daniel C. Hallin, Paolo Mancini, 2004-04-12 Building on a survey of media institutions in eighteen West European and North American democracies, Hallin and Mancini identify the principal dimensions of variation in media systems and the political variables which have shaped their evolution. They go on to identify three major models of media system development: the Polarized, Pluralist, Democratic, Corporatist, and Liberal models, to explain why the media have played a different role in politics in each of these systems and to explore the forces of change that are currently transforming them. It provides a key theoretical statement about the relation between media and political systems, a key statement about the methodology of comparative analysis in political communication, and a clear overview of the variety of media institutions that have developed in the West, understood within their political and historical context. Comparative Mass Media Systems Anju Grover Chaudhary, 1983 Comparative Media Systems Boguslawa Dobek-Ostrowska, 2010 Introduced by Daniel C. Hallin and Paolo Mancini, the book takes stock of twenty years of exiting transformation of east European media systems after the collapse of communism in 1989, an explicit comparative academic discussion of media politics. Leading researchers from different regions of Europe and the United States address five major interrelated themes: 1) how ideological and normative constructs gave way to empirical, systematic comparative work in media research; 2) the role of foreign media groups in post-communist regions and the effects of ownership in terms of impacts on media freedom; 3) the various dimensions of the relationship between mass media and political systems in a comparative perspective; 4) professionalization of journalism in different political cultures, autonomy of journalists, professional norms and practices, political instrumentalization, and the commercialization of the media; 5) the role of state intervention in media systems. Comparing Media Systems Daniel C. Comparing Post-Socialist Media Systems Zrinjka Peruško,Dina Vozab,Antonija Čuvalo,2020-10-04 This book explains divergent media system trajectories in the countries in southeast Europe and challenges the presumption that the common socialist experience critically influences a common outcome in media development after democratic transformations by showing different remote and proximate configuration of conditions that influence their contemporary shape Applying an innovative longitudinal set theoretical methodological approach the book contributes to the theory of media systems with a novel theoretical framework for the comparative analysis of post socialist media systems This theory builds on the theory of historical institutionalism and the notion of critical junctures and path dependency in searching for an explanation for similarities or differences among media systems in the Eastern European region Extending the understanding of media systems beyond a political journalism focus this book is a valuable contribution to the literature on comparative media systems in the areas of media systems studies political science Southeast and Central European studies post socialist studies and communication studies Comparative Media Systems Bogusława Dobek-Ostrowska,Michał Głowacki,Karol Jakubowicz,Miklós Sükösd,2010-01-10 Leading researchers from different regions of Europe and the United States address five major interrelated themes 1 how ideological and normative constructs gave way to empirical systematic comparative work in media research 2 the role of foreign media groups in post communist regions and the effects of ownership in terms of impacts on media freedom 3 the various dimensions of the relationship between mass media and political systems in a comparative perspective 4 professionalization of journalism in different political cultures autonomy of journalists professional norms and practices political instrumentalization and the commercialization of the media 5 the role of state intervention in media systems Comparing Media Systems in Central Europe Bogusława Dobek-Ostrowska,Michał Głowacki,2008
