Cantori, 1974 Comparative Politics Judith Bara, Mark Pennington, 2009-03-19 Bara and Pennington's edited volume successfully fills a huge void in the market for introductory textbooks to comparative politics which previously offered either descriptions of political processes and systems or overviews of the methodology of comparative analysis By applying major political science theories to overviews of the core elements of political systems the authors both enhance our understanding of these elements and provide readers an excellent introduction to comparative explanation Dr David Howarth University of Edinburgh What is distinctive about this authoritative and comprehensive book on comparative politics is the way in which it is underpinned throughout by a theoretical analysis centred on a new institutionalist approach Professor Wyn Grant University of Warwick Comparative Politics takes a fresh and original approach to the field it examines the role of structures rules and norms in regulating the individual and collective behaviour of political actors Each chapter provides a critical bibliography and key questions which will be particularly useful for students approaching Comparative Politics for the first time Altogether this is a comprehensive and useful read which I warmly recommend Ian Budge Professor Emeritus Professor of Government University of Essex This is a most useful book Teachers of comparative politics often scramble around with out of date textbooks and photocopies of more or less compatible articles Here is a new book that gives an up to date comprehensive and systematic introduction to the major strands of institutional thought and applies these to the major institutions processes and policy areas It will be a great help for many of us academics and students alike Peter Kurrild Klitgaard Professor of Comparative Politics University of Copenhagen This book provides a distinctive new introduction to the study of comparative politics at undergraduate level Rich in case study material and global in coverage Comparative Politics sets out the basic theoretical and methodological

The Routledge Handbook of Comparative Political Institutions HCPI is designed to serve as a comprehensive reference guide to our accumulated knowledge and the cutting edge of scholarship about political institutions in the comparative context It differs from existing handbooks in that it focuses squarely on institutions but also discusses how they intersect with the study of mass behaviour and explain important outcomes drawing on the perspective of comparative politics The Handbook is organized into three sections The first section consisting of six chapters is organized around broad theoretical and empirical challenges affecting the study of institutions It highlights the major issues that emerge among scholars defining measuring and analyzing institutions The second section includes fifteen chapters each of which handles a different substantive institution of importance in comparative politics This section covers traditional topics such as electoral rules and federalism as well as less conventional but equally important areas including authoritarian institutions labor market institutions and the military Each chapter not only provides a summary of our current state of knowledge on the topic but also advances claims that emphasise the research frontier on the topic and that should encourage greater investigation The final section encompassing seven chapters examines the relationship between institutions and a variety of important outcomes such as political violence economic performance and voting behavior The idea is to consider what features of the political sociological and economic world we understand better because of the scholarly attention to institutions Featuring contributions from leading researchers in the field from the US UK Europe and elsewhere this Handbook will be of great interest to all students and scholars of political institutions political behaviour and comparative politics Jennifer Gandhi is Associate Professor Department of Political Science Emory University Rub n Ruiz Rufino is Lecturer in International Politics Department of Political Economy King s College London Comparative Political Systems Chaldeans Mensah, Grant MacEwan Community College, 1996 Comparative Political Systems Anthony Trawick Bouscaren, 1977
