Outside the Gates of Eden Peter Bacon Hales, 2014-04-11 The cultural historian and author of Atomic Spaces offers a comprehensive account of the Baby Boomer years from the atomic age to the virtual age Born under the shadow of the atomic bomb with little security but the cold comfort of duck and cover drills the postwar generations lived through and led some of the most momentous changes in all of American history In this new cultural history Peter Bacon Hales explores those decades through a succession of resonant moments spaces and artifacts of everyday life Finding unexpected connections he traces the intertwined undercurrents of promise and peril From newsreels of the first atomic bomb tests to the invention of a new ideal American life in Levittown from the teen pop music of the Brill Building and the Beach Boys to Bob Dylan s canny transformations from the painful failures of communes to the breathtaking utopian potential of the digital age Hales reveals a nation in transition as a new generation began to make its mark on the world it was inheriting Outside the Gates of Eden is the most comprehensive account yet of the baby boomers their parents and their children as seen through the places they built the music and movies and shows they loved and the battles they fought to define their nation their culture and their place in what remains a fragile and dangerous world

Self-Representation Gary S. Gregg, 1991-10-30 This innovative work offers a new approach to the study of self representation drawing on both the older study of lives tradition in personality psychology and recent work in narrative psychology Gary S Gregg presents a generative theory of self representation applying methods of symbolic analysis developed by cultural anthropologists to the texts of life historical interviews This model accounts for the continual shifting of identity among contradictory surface discourses about the self as it shows how each discourse is defined as a reconfiguration of a stable cluster of deep structurally ambiguous elements Gregg not only examines the nature of narrative but also addresses more mainstream issues in cognitive science such as How is knowledge of the self and its social world represented What are the elementary units of self cognition How are cognition and affect linked After a brief introduction the book raises critical questions about self representation by presenting re analyses of two famous case studies Freud s Rat Man and Mack and Larry from The Authoritarian Personality and initial observations from Gregg s fieldwork in Morocco A theoretical chapter then introduces the notion of structured ambiguity which enables a person to shift between identities by figure or ground like reversals of key symbols and metaphors Three original life narrative analyses follow which with increasing complexity develop the model via analogies to basic structures of tonal music The work concludes with a theoretical chapter that reexamines the ideas of William James George Herbert Mead and Erik Erikson about the self's unity and multiplicity and then summarizes a generative model The book presents a compelling alternative to prevailing views of self cognition and identity and will be a valuable resource for courses in psychology anthropology and sociology as well as an important tool for researchers and professionals in these fields
