McCall's, 1925

The Ethics of Latin American Literary Criticism Erin Graff Zivin, 2007-07-15 The last several decades have witnessed a reorientation of the political and a globalization of the cultural in Latin America shifting literature's function as a homogenizing citizen forming institution to a more dispersed fragmented and potentially democratic and liberating practice At the same time and perhaps in response to this cultural shift the field of Latin American literary studies has expanded to include cultural studies postcolonial theory performance studies gender studies Africana studies and subaltern studies at once expanding and disrupting the boundaries of literature criticism and of Latin America itself In light of these dramatic transformations within a globalized Latin American culture as well as within the field of Latin American literary studies itself what value can we attribute to aesthetics today Is a reconsideration of artistic creation a mere return to the hegemonic lettered city described by Angel Rama Or can we begin to think about an ethical potential inscribed within the act of reading that is an encounter with otherness that irreversibly alters the reading subject

The Publishers Weekly, 1945-03

The Investigation Juan José Saer, 1999 He's called the monster of the Bastille He's brutally murdered 27 elderly women in one area of Paris Chief Inspector Morvan is in charge of the investigation into this macabre and sinister case every victim seems to have invited the killer into her home to have enjoyed a meal even celebrated before her death And each time the killer has meticulously bathed himself leaving the scene of the crime without a single fingerprint In Argentina meanwhile an untitled manuscript by an unnamed author is discovered amongst the papers of a missing poet known for his hatred of the novel The Investigation seeks to unravel two cases one criminal one literary Part police investigation part historical account and part novel it shows Saer at his virtuoso best effortlessly orchestrating the different layers
