book pushes the revolt against post Gettier epistemology in a radically new direction It begins by challenging the crude history of philosophy underling the entire Gettier paradigm A survey ranging from the pre Socratics to the mid twentieth century reveals that the allegedly standard or traditional analysis of knowledge is neither standard nor traditional In fact it is difficult to find major philosophers for thousands of years who regarded knowledge as a species of belief or belief as entailed by knowledge The standard view was rather that knowing and believing are distinct mutually exclusive mental states involving different mental faculties and playing distinct and complementary roles in our cognitive lives The book then applies this renewed paradigm to range of controversial issues including the taxonomy of belief the role of the will in belief testimony collective knowledge and religious epistemology
