An Anthology

This is a collection of student-authored and student-illustrated stories inspired by the lived experiences of college life. The writers write about worlds both real and fictional, ordinary and extraordinary as stories dwell on the page and within the University campus. All these stories have emerged from a four-hour "Write-a-thon" organized by the Centre for Thinking, Language, and Communication at Pskada University. This book hopes to inspire other engineers to write more.
