Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and creating things that "solve" with a local focus such as water quality or waste management using science to make or improve solutions can have a positive impact. Understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, is the first step in finding an effective solution.

Designing solutions requires considering various constraints, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Community members have a part of a solution might face challenges, however, and it is important to weigh these trade-offs carefully. For example, creating materials for a water filter may affect its cost and ease of use, which influenced the effectiveness of the solution.

After identifying a solution, documenting how it works, what constraints affected it, and any compromises that have already been or should be made on the way. Communication, using simple words, and reflecting on the results of the solution are important steps. This process can help sharing ideas locally encourages responsible decision-making and helps communities thrive.

6A. Mark the best answer for each question.

1. What is the first important step when working on a local problem?
- Designing a solution
  - Ignoring the most expensive materials
  - Ignoring safety concerns
  - Understanding the problem fully
2. What does documenting constraints in a solution help with?
- Ignoring the constraints of the solution
  - Establishing a budget and safety
  - Showing how to avoid
  - Demonstrating that the solution has no costs
3. Which is an example of a trade-off?
- Finding a solution with no costs
  - Ignoring safety concerns
  - The time and money needed to create a solution
  - Using unsafe materials
4. Why is communication important?
- To avoid not being in agreement
  - To make ideas clearer
  - To finish the problem by comparing
  - To avoid discussing trade-offs

6B. Mark if the statement is True (T) or False (F).

1. A solution made after one failed attempt is always better than the first one.
