Alt 20 New Trends Generations:

Speculative & Science Fiction Ernest N. Emenyonu, Chimalum Nwankwo, Louisa Uchum Egbunike, 2021 Over the past two decades there has been a resurgence in the writing of African and African diaspora speculative and science fiction writing Discussions around the rise of science fiction and fantasy have led to a push back by writers and scholars who have suggested that this is not a new phenomenon in African literature This collection focuses on the need to recalibrate ways of reading and categorising this genre of African writing through critical examinations both of classics such as Kojo Laing's Woman of the Aeroplanes 1988 and Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o's oeuvre as well as more recent fiction from writers including Nnedi Okorafor Namwali Serpell and Masande Ntshanga Back cover

Children's Literature & Story-telling Ernest Emenyonu, Patricia Thornton Emenyonu, Jane Bryce, Maureen N. Eke, Stephanie Newell, Charles E. Nnolim, Alphonse Kwawisi Tekpetey, Iniobong I. Uko, Obi Nwakanma, Chimalum Moses Nwankwo, 2015 Contributors analyse the theories behind children's literature its functions and cultural significance and suggest the new directions this literature is taking in terms of its craft themes and intentions Africa's encounter with the West and its implications and consequences remain far reaching and enduring in the craft and thrust of its creative writers The contributors to ALT 33 analyse the connections between traditional stories and myths that have been told to children as well as the work of contemporary creative writers who are writing for children in order that they understand this complex history Some of these writers are developing traditional myths folk tales and legends and are writing them in new forms while others focus on the encounter with the West that has dominated much modern African literature for adults The previous neglect of the cultural significance study criticism and teaching of children's literature is addressed in this volume How can the successes and or failures of stories and story telling for children in Africa be measured Are there models to be followed and what makes them models What is the relationship between the text and the illustration of children's books What should guide the reader or critic of children's literature coming out of Africa globalism transculturality or internal regionalism What problems confront teachers students publishers and promoters of children's books in Africa Ernest Emenyonu is Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Michigan Flint USA the editorial board is composed of scholars from US UK and African universities Reviews Editor Obi Nwakanma HEBN Nigeria

Queer Theory in Film & Fiction Ernest N. Emenyonu, John C. Hawley, Patricia Thornton Emenyonu, Adé́léké Adé́kó, Obi Nwakanma, 2018 ALT 36 turns a queer eye on Africa offering provocative re-readings of texts to position formerly erased sexualities and contemporary sexual expression among Africans on the continent and abroad

African Literature and the Future Adeoti, Gbemisola, 2015-12-01 Many African countries achieved independence from their colonisers over five decades ago but the people and the continent largely remain mere spectators in the arena of their own dance The post independence states are supposed to be sovereign but the levers of economic and political powers still reside in the donor states Not in many fora is the complex reality that defines Africa more trenchantly articulated than in imaginative literature

produced about and on the continent This is the crux of the essays collected in African Literature and the Future The book reflects on Africa's past and present addressing anxieties about the future through the epistemological lens of literature The contributors peep ahead from a backward glance They dissect the trend and tenor of politics and their impact on the socio-cultural and economic development of the continent as portrayed in imaginative writings over the years One salient feature of African literature is the close affinity between art and politics in its polemics This is well established in all the six essays in the book as the authors stress the interconnections between literature and society in their textual analyses On the whole there is an overwhelming feeling of angst and pessimism but the authors perceive a glimmer of hope despite daunting odds under different conditions Thus they depict the plausible fate of Africa in the twenty first century as informed by its ancient and recent past gleaned from primary texts

Environmental Transformations Ernest N. Emenyonu, 2020 Investigates what literary strategies African writers adopt to convey the impact of climate transformation and environmental change This special issue examines the ways fiction and poetry engage with environmental consciousness and how African literary criticism addresses the implications of global environmental transformations Does environmentalist literature offer new possibilities for critical thinking about the future What constitutes environmentalist fiction and poetry What kind of texts themes and topics does climate writing include Does any text in which the environment features become available to environmentalist criticism In their engagement with the diverse genres themes and frameworks through which contemporary African writers address topics including urbanisation cross species communication nature and climate change contributors to this special issue help to define African environmental writing They look at the literary strategies adopted by creative writers to convey the impact of environmental transformation in narratives that are historically informed by a century of colonialism nationalist political activism urbanisation and postcolonial migration How does environmental literature intervene in these histories Can creative writers with their powerfully post human and cross species imaginations carry out the ethical work demanded by contemporary climate science From Tanure Ojaide's and Helon Habila's attention to environmental decimation in the Niger Delta through to Nnedi Okorafor's and Kofi Anyidoho's imaginative cross species encounters the special issue asks how literature mediates the specificities of climate change in an era of global capitalism and technological transformation and what the limits of creative writing and literary criticism are as tools for discussing environmental issues This volume also includes a Literary Supplement Guest Editors Cajetan Iheka Associate Professor of English Yale University and Stephanie Newell Professor of English Yale University Series Editor Ernest N Emenyonu Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Michigan Flint Reviews Editor Obi Nwakanma Fellow Department of English University of Central Florida

Teaching African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2011 Focuses on theoretical and pedagogical approaches to the teaching of African literature on both sides of the Atlantic and beyond The publication of Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart in 1958 drew universal attention not only to contemporary African creative imagination but also established the art of the modern African novel In 1986 Wole Soyinka became the first African to win the Nobel Prize for Literature and opened the gate for other African writers By the close of the 20th century African literature had gained world wide acceptance and legitimacy in the academy and featured on the literature curriculum of schools and colleges across the globe This special issue of African Literature Today examines the diverse experiences of teachers of African literature across regional racial cultural and national boundaries It explores such issues as student responses productive pedagogical innovations the impact of modern technology case studies of online teaching teaching criticism of African literature and teaching African literature in an age of multiculturalism It is intended as an invaluable teacher s handbook and essential student companion for the effective study of African literature

Writing Africa in the Short Story Ernest Emenyonu,2013 The success of the Caine Prize for African Writing and the growth of online publishing have played key roles in putting the short story in its rightful place within the study and criticism of African literature African writers have much more than the critics recognized the beauty and potency of the short story Always the least studied in African literature classrooms and the most critically overlooked genre in African literature today the African short story is now given the attention it deserves Contributors here take a close look at the African short story to re define its own peculiar pedigree chart its trajectory critique its present state and examine its creative possibilities They examine how the short story and the novel complement each other or exist in contradistinction within the context of culture and politics history and public memory legends myths and folklore Ernest Emenyonu is Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Michigan Flint USA the editorial board is composed of scholars from US UK and African universities Nigeria HEBN

Focus on Egypt Ernest Emenyonu,2017 As well as a rare examination of Egyptian literature this volume includes a non themed section of Featured Articles and a Literary Supplement

Politics & Social Justice Ernest Emenyonu,2014 This special issue focuses on literary texts by African writers in which the protagonist returns to his her original or ancestral home in Africa from other parts of the world Ideas of return intentional and actual have been a consistent feature of the literature of Africa and the African diaspora from Equiano s autobiography in 1789 to Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie s 2013 novel Americanah African literature has represented returnees in a range of locations and dislocations including having a sense of belonging being alienated in a country they can no longer recognize or experiencing a multiple sense of place Contributors writing on literature from the 1970s to the present examine the extent to which the original place can be reclaimed with or without renegotiations of home Articles on Nuruddin Farah Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Pede Hollist Ayi Kwei Amah Dinaw Mengestu Benjamin Kwakye Interview with Tendai Huchu Featured Articles by Bernth Lindfors Eustace Palmer Helen Chukwuma Literary supplement four poems by Tsitsi Ella Jaji

New Novels in African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu,2010 This work discusses the validity of the perception that the new generation of African novelists is different in vision style and worldview from the older generation The 13 papers have been carefully selected to highlight the contention that the previous generation made culture conflict their sole theme
