Alternatives to Imprisonment in Comparative Perspective Uglješa Zvekić,1994 This publication consists of two volumes V 1 presents regional and case study reports volume 2 presents a review of the literature and the International bibliography of alternatives to imprisonment 1980 1989 Incarceration and Its Alternatives in 20th Century America David J. Rothman,1979 Radical Alternatives to Prison and the Penal Lobby Mick Ryan,1978 Alternatives to Prison Jody Soper,1979 Alternatives to Incarceration Ebony L. Ruhland,2025-09-19 Mass incarceration has been an ongoing problem in the United States There have been several research studies that explain the causes and consequences of mass incarceration A major contributor to incarceration is what happens in community supervision In several states many prison admissions result from technical violations from community supervision Historically alternatives to incarceration were developed to reduce prison populations and decrease the fiscal cost of incarceration They were to function as a diversion away from prison Alternatives also keep people in the community while holding them accountable and protecting community safety Yet given the high violations and revocations rather than serving as an alternative to incarceration community supervision becomes a delayed prison sentence The book underscores the importance of ongoing research and the need for effective strategies to reduce violations and revocations There is a clear need for more research to explore what works in reducing violations and revocations including the factors that contribute to these issues This ongoing exploration is crucial for the continued development and improvement of community corrections Chapters in this book address how barriers such as mental illness COVID 19 and financial constraints may impede success on supervision and highlight in the findings ways to increase success despite these barriers Further two chapters provide results on two commonly used strategies in community corrections risk assessments and electronic monitoring The chapter s findings build on previous works and provide recommendations for policy and research This book advances knowledge on reducing violations and revocations and increasing success in community supervision It was originally published as a special issue of Corrections Policy Practice and Research Prison by Any Other Name Maya Schenwar,Victoria Law,2020-07-21 A crucial indictment of widely embraced alternatives to incarceration that exposes how many of these new approaches actually widen the net of punishment and surveillance But what does it mean really to celebrate reforms that convert your home into your prison Michelle Alexander from the foreword Electronic monitoring Locked down drug treatment centers House arrest Mandated psychiatric treatment

Data driven surveillance Extended probation These are some of the key alternatives held up as cost effective substitutes for jails and prisons But many of these so called reforms actually widen the net weaving in new strands of punishment and control and bringing new populations who would not otherwise have been subject to imprisonment under physical control by the state As mainstream public opinion has begun to turn against mass incarceration political figures on both sides of the spectrum are pushing for reform But though they re promoted as steps to confront high rates of imprisonment many of these measures are transforming our homes and communities into prisons instead In Prison by Any Other Name activist journalists Maya Schenwar and Victoria Law reveal the way the kinder gentler narrative of reform can obscure agendas of social control and challenge us to question the ways we replicate the status quo when pursuing change A foreword by Michelle Alexander situates the book in the context of criminal justice reform conversations Finally the book offers a bolder vision for truly alternative justice practices
