Storytime and Beyond Kathy Barco,Melanie Borski-Howard,2018-10-10 Join the world of balloons pancakes and musical instruments just a few items to help improve early literacy in the library the classroom and at home Literacy builders covered range from music and instruments to magnetic letters alphabet beads and food Literacy is a popular topic of discussion among librarians Especially important is early literacy what children know about reading and writing before they can actually read and write In this book experienced librarians Kathy Barco and Melanie Borski Howard share hands on techniques that they have used to successfully promote early literacy and encourage family involvement Storytime and Beyond teaches readers how to use literacy doodads inexpensive props that add excitement to storytimes and can be used outside the library or classroom to enhance the basic components of any early literacy program talking singing reading writing and playing Many of the doodads can be created as family do it yourself projects and some can be adapted to work with non readers of any age Instruments can also be a great way to get children's attention and teach literacy skills whether it's a drum to beat while reading a story or a maraca for children to shake during a song and lesson plans for musical storytimes address how to use rhythm singing and dancing to make early literacy fun

Weird Worlds David A. J. Seargent, 2013-04-18 Weird Worlds is the third book in David Seargent's Weird series This book assumes a basic level of astronomical understanding and concentrates on the odd and interesting aspects of planetary bodies including asteroids and moons From our viewpoint here on Earth this work features the most unusual features of these worlds and the ways in which they appear weird to us Within our own Solar System odd facts such as the apparent reversal of the Sun in the skies of Mercury CO2 driven fountains of dust on Mars possible liquid water and perhaps primitive life deep within the dwarf planet Ceres and a variety of odd facts about the planetary moons are all discussed A special chapter is devoted to Saturn's giant moon Titan and its methane based weather system and hydrological cycle This chapter also includes recent speculation on the possibility of methane based organisms and the form that these might take if they really do exist Beyond our Solar System the book looks at the range of worlds discovered and hypothesized In Weird Worlds the author discusses planets where temperatures are so high that it rains molten iron and others so cold that liquid methane floods across plains of ice Worlds are described where the lightest element acts like a metal and where winds blow at thousands of miles per hour as well as possible planets whose orbits are essentially parabolic In keeping with previous titles in David Seargent's Weird series Weird Worlds contains several projects that astronomers of all levels can undertake

Lies that Tell the Truth Anne C. Hegerfeldt, 2005 Magic realism has long been treated as a phenomenon restricted to postcolonial literature Drawing on works from Britain Lies that Tell the Truth compellingly shows how magic realist fiction can be produced also at what is usually considered to be the cultural centre without forfeiting the mode's postcolonial attitude and aims A close analysis of works by Angela Carter Salman Rushdie Jeanette Winterson Robert Nye and others reveals how the techniques of magic realism generate a complex critique of the West's rational empirical worldview from within a Western context itself Understanding magic realism as a fictional analogue of anthropology and sociology Lies that Tell the Truth reads the mode as a frequently humorous but at the same time critical investigation into people's attempts to make sense of their world By laying bare the manifold strategies employed to make meaning magic realist fiction indicates that knowledge and reality cannot be reduced to hard facts but that people's dreams and fears ideas stories and beliefs must equally be taken into account
