Dispatches From A Found Notebook:

Dispatches from a Found Notebook Dave Rosi,2006-05-01 A teacher and a tattered notebook would seem to have little in common but both carry stories of loss and desperation The teacher longs to reclaim his integrity The notebook s writer yearns to rise from ruin The events of one day will allow their paths to cross and provide each a chance to give the other what he most desires

Crusade of the Left Robert Rosenstone,2018-02-06 Between 1936 and 1938 some 3 000 young Americans sailed to France and crossed the Pyrenees to take part in the brutal civil war raging in Spain Virtually all joined the International Brigades formed under the auspices of the Soviet led Comintern and largely directed by Communists Yet a large number were not Communists their activism was inspired by domestic and international crises of the 1930s and colored by idealism The men who went to Spain came out of a radical subculture that emerged from the Depression and the New Deal Th is radicalism was a native plant but it was nourished from abroad In the thirties the menace of fascism seemed to be spreading like cancer across Europe giving an international aspect to many domestic problems in the United States To intellectuals students unionists liberals and leftists the threat of fascism was so real that many came to believe that if it was not stopped in Spain eventually they would have to take up arms against fascism at home To understand the Americans who fought in the Spanish Civil War it is necessary to bury some of the shibboleths of cold war years Dissidence in the United States occurs in response to perceptions of reality on this side of the Atlantic not because of the wishes of men in the Soviet Union Th e members of the Lincoln Battalion were genuine products of America and their story is properly a page in American military and political history From them one can learn much about the world of the 1930s and perhaps even something about the potential of modern man for thought and action in time of crisis

Decisions and Orders of the National Labor Relations Board United States. National Labor Relations Board,1973 The Longcut Emily Hall,2023-11-14 The narrator of The Longcut is an artist who doesn t know what her art is As she gets lost on her way to a meeting in an art gallery walking around in circles in a city she knows perfectly well she finds herself endlessly sidetracked and distracted by the question of what her work is and how she ll know it when she sees it Her mental peregrinations take her through the elements that make up her life her dull office job where she spends the day moving items into a completed column insomniac nights in her so called studio also known as her tiny apartment encounters with an enigmatic friend who may or may not know her better than she knows herself But wherever she looks she finds only more questions what is the difference between the world and the photographed world why do objects wither in different contexts what is Cambridge blue that lead her further away from the one thing that really matters An extraordinary feat of syntactical dexterity and comic ingenuity The Longcut is ultimately a story of resistance to easy answers and the place of art and the artist in the world
