Distributed Databases in Real-Time Control M.G. Rodd,E. Knuth,2014-07-04 The problems surrounding the subject of distributed databases in real time control were addressed at the workshop The difficulties included finding new high level conceptual models as conventional solutions are rendered useless in distributed databases The other problems covered include the difficulties faced due to huge transaction fluxes and time constraints The papers cover these theoretical issues plus an applications section which provides case studies of efficient applied systems which will be important for the development of this essential field

Finding an alternative to supplement military ways of resolving international conflicts has been taken up by many people skilled in various areas such as political science economics social studies modelling and simulation artificial intelligence and expert systems military strategy and weaponry as well as private business and industry The Workshop will therefore be of use as it looks at various control methods which would create a conciliatory social and political environment or climate for seeking and obtaining non military solutions to international conflicts and to solutions to national conflicts which may lead to international conflicts Expert Systems in Mineral and Metal Processing A. Frigeri,W.A. Halang,S.H. Son,1999 In 1999 the IFAC IFIP Workshop on Real Time Programming WRTP joined forces with the Workshop on Active and Real Time Database Systems ARTDB Both series of workshops provide an excellent forum for exchanging information on recent scientific and technological advances and practices in real time computing a field that is becoming an essential enabling discipline of both control engineering and computer science and engineering The annual Workshop on Real Time Programming and the bi annual Workshop on Active and Real time Databases Systems are intended as meetings of relatively small numbers of experts in their fields taking place as truly international events The 1999 Workshop maintained the outstanding quality of both series providing an opportunity to assess the state of the art to present new results and to discuss possible lines of future developments Primarily it focused on software development for real time systems real time operating systems and active and real time database systems In particular the technical programme of the Workshop covered latest research and developments in requirements engineering software engineering active and real time database systems communication and clock synchronisation embedded systems formal methods operating systems and scheduling Out of 58 submissions from 19 countries the International Programme Committee selected 26 regular papers and 8 reserve papers for presentation at the Workshop Contributions come from Europe North America Australia and the Far East In addition to these the programme also featured two world renowned keynote speakers and a discussion panel about the state of the art in the field of active real time database systems

Real-Time Database Systems Kam-Yiu Lam,Tei-Wei Kuo,2000-11-30 In recent years tremendous research has been devoted to the design of database systems for real time applications called real time database systems RTDBS where transactions are associated with deadlines on their completion times and some of the data objects in the database are associated with temporal constraints on their validity Examples of important applications of RTDBS include stock trading systems navigation systems and computer integrated manufacturing Different transaction scheduling algorithms and concurrency control protocols have been proposed to satisfy transaction timing data temporal constraints Other design issues important to the performance of a RTDBS are buffer management index accesses and I O scheduling Real Time

Tucker,2004-06-28 When you think about how far and fast computer science has progressed in recent years it s not hard to conclude that a seven year old handbook may fall a little short of the kind of reference today s computer scientists software engineers and IT professionals need With a broadened scope more emphasis on applied computing and more than 70 chap Real-Time Database Systems Azer Bestavros,Kwei-Jay Lin,Sang Hyuk Son,2012-12-06 Despite the growing interest in Real Time Database Systems there is no single book that acts as a reference to academics professionals and practitioners who wish to understand the issues involved in the design and development of RTDBS Real Time Database Systems Issues and Applications fulfills this need This book presents the spectrum of issues that may arise in various real time database applications the available solutions and technologies that may be used to address these issues and the open problems that need to be tackled in the future With rapid advances in this area several concepts have been proposed without a widely accepted consensus on their definitions and implications To address this need the first chapter is an introduction to the key RTDBS concepts and definitions which is followed by a survey of the state of the art in RTDBS research and practice The remainder of the book consists of four sections models and paradigms applications and benchmarks scheduling and concurrency control and experimental systems The chapters in each section are contributed by experts in the respective areas Real Time Database Systems Issues and Applications is primarily intended for practicing engineers and researchers working in the growing area of real time database systems For practitioners the book will provide a much needed bridge for technology transfer and continued education For researchers this book will provide a comprehensive reference for well established results This book can also be used in a senior or graduate level course on real time systems real time database systems and database systems or closely related courses A Quarterly Bulletin of the Computer Society of the IEEE Technical Committee on Data Engineering ,1990 Proceedings of the 1995 ACM SIGMOD International Conference on Management of Data Michael Carey,1995 Large Scale Systems: Theory and Applications 1989 K. Distributed Computing Systems Thomas L. Casavant, Mukesh Singhal, 1994 An Object-oriented Real-time Database System for Multiprocessors Victor Bradley Lortz, 1994 Abstract Complex real time systems need databases to support concurrent data access and provide well defined interfaces between software modules However conventional database systems and prior real time database systems do not provide the performance or predictability needed by high speed hard real time applications To address this need we have designed implemented and evaluated an object oriented software system called MDARTS Multiprocessor Database Architecture for Real Time Systems MDARTS avoids the client server overhead of most prior real time database systems and object oriented real time systems by moving transaction execution into application tasks By eliminating these sources of overhead and focusing on basic data management services for hard real time systems data sharing serializable transactions and multiprocessor support our MDARTS prototype provides guaranteed transaction times approximately three orders of magnitude faster than prior real time database systems Another contribution of MDARTS is that it supports explicit declarations of real time requirements and semantic constraints within application code The MDARTS library examines these declarations at database object initialization time and attempts to construct objects that are compatible with the requirements MDARTS supports both local shared memory transactions and remote transactions that use remote procedure calls Except for variations in transaction time guarantees the locations and implementations of MDARTS objects are transparent to applications MDARTS provides a C interface rather than a query language interface Our MDARTS prototype runs on VME based multiprocessors and Sun workstations and we have used MDARTS to implement a controller for an actual manufacturing machine
