Crime and Criminals Massachusetts Prison Association, 1900 Genocide, War Crimes, and Crimes Against Humanity Jennifer Trahan, Adela Mall, 2004 This unique book organizes the decisions of the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia by topic including genocide crimes against humanity war crimes individual criminal responsibility command responsibility affirmative defenses jurisdiction sentencing fair trial rights guilty pleas and appellate review In selected cases the book also applies key aspects of the law to the facts of the case

Participation in Crime Falling within the Subject-Matter Jurisdiction of the International Criminal Court Aleksandra Nieprzecka, 2024-06-18 This book centres on the forms of participation in crime set out in the Rome Statute but it is definitely not a simple repetition or summary of the views expressed in the ICC case law Instead the work critically elaborates on the ICC practice and presents a theoretical and dogmatic description of modes of criminal responsibility that might be found in the Statute The element of novelty is however brought about by the methodology which encompasses a normative analysis based on the distinction between the categories of sanctioned and sanctioning norms initially introduced by K Binding in the German doctrine but for the purposes of this book adjusted to the structure of international core crimes and reconciling them with the grounds for criminal responsibility as such Moreover the work does not avoid bold assertions concerning the norms of participation in crime concerning inter alia the concept of spectator or public approval and or direct incitement to genocide This approach should be of particular interest to those who are under the impression that international criminal law is entangled in a multiplicity of labels and the judicial practice sometimes adopts the same requirements without any further thought or analysis The book aims to trigger a broader debate on the merits and rationale of participation in crime and encourages readers to rethink some of the concepts developed within judicial practice The work also takes into consideration the ICC case law in particular some tendencies that might be inferred from the separate and concurring opinions in the Ntaganda case All in all it endeavours to reflect on the content of Article 25 3 and 28 of the Rome Statute and provide an answer on how ICC practice might and perhaps should evolve further

Aleksandra Nieprzecka Ph D is a member of the Polish Bar Association in Krak w and worked as a principal researcher in the project concerning the model of participation in crime adopted in the Rome Statute carried out at the Jagiellonian University in Krak w where she finished her doctoral studies according to the co tutelle agreement between the Jagiellonian University in Krak w and the University of Hamburg

Victimology and crime prevention are growing interrelated areas cutting across several disciplines Victimology examines victims of all sorts of criminal activity from domestic abuse to street violence to victims in the workplace who lose jobs and pensions due to malfeasance by corporate executives Crime prevention is an important companion to victimology because it offers insight and techniques to prevent situations that lead to crime and attempts to offer ideas and means for mitigating or minimizing the potential for victimization In many ways the two fields have developed along parallel yet separate paths and the literature on both has been scattered across disciplines as varied as sociology law and criminology public health and medicine political science and public policy economics psychology and human services and more The Encyclopedia of Victimology and Crime Prevention provides a comprehensive reference work bringing together such dispersed knowledge as it outlines and discusses the status of victims within the criminal justice system and topics of deterring and preventing victimization in the first place and responding to victims needs Two volumes containing approximately 375 signed entries provide users with the most authoritative and comprehensive reference resource available on victimology and crime prevention both in terms of breadth and depth of coverage In addition to standard entries leading scholars in the field have contributed Anchor Essays that in broad strokes provide starting points for investigating the more salient victimology and crime prevention topics A representative sampling of general topic areas covered includes interpersonal and domestic violence child maltreatment and elder abuse street violence hate crimes and terrorism treatment of victims by the media courts police and politicians community response to crime victims physical design for crime prevention victims of nonviolent crimes deterrence and prevention helping and counseling crime victims international and comparative perspectives and more
