Star Patterns

Findout Constellations

What:
There is a lot of stars that make up constellations. Learning to find constellations is an important skill for astronomers and stargazers. The biggest star in the constellation is called the alpha.

How:
You can use a star chart to find the constellations in the sky. The chart shows the names of the constellations and the names of the stars in each constellation. You can also use a star chart to find the constellations in the sky.

Why:
The stars in a constellation are called the alpha and beta stars. The alpha star is the brightest star in the constellation. The beta star is the second brightest star in the constellation.

Where:
The stars in a constellation are scattered across the sky. Some are in the northern sky and some are in the southern sky.
