

Direct marketing checklist

Obtaining consent for marketing

- We use opt-in boxes
- We specify methods of communication (eg by email, text, phone, recorded call, post)
- We ask for consent to pass details to third parties for marketing and name, or clearly describe those third parties
- We record when and how we got consent, and exactly what it covers

Bought in lists

General

- We check that the seller is a member of a professional body (or is accredited in some way)
- We don't use bought-in lists for texts, emails or recorded calls (unless we have proof of opt-in consent within last six months which specifically named or clearly described us)
- The product, service or ideals we are marketing are the same or similar to those that the individuals originally consented to receive marketing for
- We only use the information on the lists for marketing purposes
- We delete any irrelevant or excessive personal information
- We screen the names on bought-in lists against our own list of people who say they don't want our calls (suppression list)
- We carry out small sampling exercises to assess the reliability of the data on the lists
