Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and inventing things. Often "solved" with a local "fix" such as water recycling or waste management using natural or man-made resources. However, important to be part of a solution might be to challenge, improve, or improve solutions that have a positive impact. Understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, is the first step in finding an effective solution.

Designing solutions begins by considering various constraints, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Constraints represent some part of a solution might be to challenge, improve, or improve solutions that have a positive impact. Understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, is the first step in finding an effective solution.

After identifying a solution, determining how it works, what constraints affected it, and any compromises that have already been and possibly involve on the way. Communication, using digital media, and reflecting on the results of the solution are important steps. The process of sharing, testing, and evaluating locally encourages responsible decision-making and helps communities thrive.
