The use of knowledge based decision support tools has also become necessary in order for enterprises to survive in a competitive environment. This book offers a new approach to designing the knowledge management process and integrating it with the implementation of Industry 4.0 technology. The book presents the methods used in a customer oriented organisation for management of manufacturing knowledge. More specifically methods for defining and collecting customer requirements are presented and methods on how to receive manufacturing knowledge as well as how to formalise the acquired knowledge using key technologies of Industry 4.0 are discussed. The author also presents real case studies from Western and Central Europe and offers recommendations for the production manager. The instrumentation of methods and tools to support knowledge management in the production of individualised products presented therein will allow the manufacturing company to be transformed digitally into a customer oriented organisation operating in accordance with the assumptions of Industry 4.0. This book will be a valuable read for production researchers, academicians, PhD students and postgraduate level students of industrial engineering and industrial management. The practical case studies will also make the book a useful resource for managers of manufacturing enterprises. Practical Aspects of Knowledge Management Dimitris Karagiannis, Ulrich Reimer, 2005-02-04 This book contains the papers presented at the 5th International Conference on Practical Aspects of Knowledge Management organized by the Department of Knowledge Management Institute of Computer Science and Business Informatics University of Vienna. The event took place on December 02-03 2004 in Vienna. The PAKM conference series offers a communication forum and meeting ground for practitioners and researchers engaged in developing and deploying advanced business solutions for the management of knowledge and intellectual capital. Contributions pursuing integrated approaches which consider organizational, technological and cultural issues of knowledge management have been elected for presentation. PAKM is a forum for people to share their views, to exchange ideas, to develop new insights and to envision completely new kinds of solutions for knowledge management problems. The accepted papers are of high quality and are not too specialized so that the main issues can be understood by someone outside the respective field. This is crucial for an interdisciplinary exchange of ideas. Like its predecessors PAKM 2004 featured two invited talks. It is a real joy seeing the visibility of the conference increase and noting that knowledge management researchers and practitioners from all over the world submitted papers. This year 163 papers and case studies were submitted from which 48 were accepted.
