1. The following are parts of the introduction of a paper published in Technological Forecasting & Social Change 113 (2016) 328-340. Arrange the following sentences to come up with a clear and coherent introduction.

- a. Approaching this issue requires a clear identification of relevant skills, rather than simply quantifying the skills of jobholders in a given occupational field (Elias and McKnight, 2001).
- b. Our findings consider policy implications for Portugal in terms of new opportunities for curricula innovation in short-term higher education and new relationships between institutions and local economic and social actors.
- c. Despite the efforts of national governments to increase participation in higher education (OECD, 2014a; Hoidn and Karkkainen, 2014), almost two-thirds of the adult population in Europe are still lacking skills that would make them successful in innovation driven environments (OECD, 2013).
- d. The scarcity of skilled workers has often been attributed to, among other things, the considerable gap between educational systems and companies' needs, or to the fact that learning and training profiles are not suitable for current industry settings (Tjden et al., 2012).
- e. The education and training of the labour force in Europe is facing new challenges (ILO, 2015; ETUI, 2015) as productivity growth and wealth creation needs to experience new boundaries (Schwab, 2014).
- f. This article aims to contextualize the potential role of technical and vocational higher education as intermediaries in this process and compares a Portuguese institution with other European institutions.
