understanding of culture and ideology is however shown to be too instrumental and elitists Cultural production and reception must be given greater prominence The role of external models and the problem of imitation are clearly important for the intellectual mobilization of nationalism The desired model for imitation is not accepted unchanged but must in some way be adapted to the prevailing traditions or conventions of the adapting country Constructing the UAW Dodge Local 3 Mark Steven Freyberg,1995 International Review of Social History ,2004 Institutional Change and Economic Behaviour International Economic Association.
