Building a Model Black Community Stewart E. Perry, BUILDING A MODEL BLACK COMMUNITY: The Roxbury Action Program Stewart E. Perry, 1978 Subsidized Programs for Low Income People Lloyd L. Hogan, 1981-01-01 Subsidized Programs for Low Income People is the proceedings of a conference held in April 1980 and sponsored by the Review of Black Political Economy the National Economic Association and the Atlanta University Center The panel discussions and the array of participants represent a major attempt to bring new insights into issues of long standing The challenge of the 1980 s is to evolve programs to meet the needs of increasing numbers of low income families blacks and other minorities who are finding it impossible to bridge the gap between inferior and decent housing opportunities The proceedings explore the providing of subsidized rents and the need for additional support programs for home ownership especially for the young and those who are among the increasing working poor Contributors Vincent R McDonald Lloyd Hogan Mack H Jones Rawle Farley Charles L Betsey Wilhel mina A Leigh and Mildred O Mitchell Patricia Thompson Bernadette P Chachere Charles Anderson Margaret C Simms Cleveland A Chandler Samuel L Myers Jr W Victor Rouse and Edward C Baldwin To Live Peaceably Together Tracy E. K'Meyer, 2022-04-14 A groundbreaking look at how a predominantly white faith based group reset the terms of the fight to integrate US cities The bitterly tangled webs of race and housing in the postwar United States hardly suffer from a lack of scholarly attention But Tracy K Meyer s To Live Peaceably Together delivers something truly new to the field a lively examination of a predominantly white faith based group the Quaker aligned American Friends Service Committee AFSC that took a unique and ultimately influential approach to cultivating wider acceptance of residential integration Built upon detailed stories of AFSC activists and the obstacles they encountered in their work in Chicago Philadelphia and Richmond California To Live Peaceably Together is an engaging and timely account of how the organization allied itself to a cause that demanded constant learning reassessment and self critique K Meyer details the spiritual and humanist motivations behind the AFSC its members shifting strategies as they came to better understand structural inequality and how those strategies were eventually adopted by a variety of other groups Her fine grained investigation of the cultural ramifications of housing struggles provides a fresh look at the last seventy years of racial activism Racism in the United States Meyer Weinberg, 1990-05-21 This volume represents the most comprehensive book length bibliography on the subject of racism available in the United States Compiler Meyer Weinberg has surveyed a wide ranging group of material and classified it under 87 subject headings drawing on articles books congressional hearings and reports theses and dissertations research reports and investigative journalism Historical references cover the long history of racism while the heightened awareness and activity of the recent past is also addressed in detail In addition to works that fit the narrow definition of racism as a mode of oppression or group denial of rights based on color Weinberg includes references dealing with sexism antisemitism economic exploitation and similar forms of dehumanization References are grouped under a series of subject headings that include Civil Rights Desegregation Housing Socialism and Racism Unemployment and Violence against Minorities Items which do not have self explanatory titles are annotated and virtually every section is thoroughly cross referenced Also included is one section of carefully selected references on racism in countries other than the United States Unlike the remainder of the book this section is not comprehensive but rather provides an opportunity to view racism comparatively The volume concludes with an author index This work will be a significant addition to both academic and public libraries as well as an important resource for courses in racism sociology and black history Shutdown United States Commission on Civil Rights. Illinois Advisory Committee, 1981

Chicago Gregory Squires, 1989-02 Despite local folklore Chicago is not always a city that works No longer the Hog Butcher for the World the Windy City has in recent decades pursued economic growth at all costs to the detriment of many of its citizens This book describes the social economic and political costs of the growth ideology and examines the populist response that promises an alternative Chicago Tracing the city's uneven economic development since World War II the authors demonstrate how unchecked growth in favor of private enterprise has resulted in severe poverty unemployment crime reduced tax revenues and property values a decline in municipal services and racial ethnic and class divisiveness And yet proponents of Daley style machine politics and the notion of the city as a growth machine still assert that the future of the city depends exclusively on its ability to grow The victory of Harold Washington is the most visible symbol of the movement toward an alternative Chicago Naming different priorities and using more participatory tactics this challenge to the politics of growth promotes development that is responsive to social need not just market signals Author note Gregory D Squires is Associate Professor of Sociology at the University of Wisconsin Milwaukee Larry Bennett is Associate Professor and Chair of the Political Science Department at DePaul University Kathleen McCourt is Associate Professor and Chair of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at Loyola University of Chicago Philip Nyden is Associate Professor of Sociology at Loyola University of Chicago Energy Technologies and Rural Development Mauricio Cardenas, 1984 Workplace Democracy, 1981 The Urban & Social Change Review, 1978 American Community Organizations Patricia Mooney Melvin, 1986-11-18 An encyclopedic dictionary that treats organizations persons and federal legislation that document the history of grass roots community organizing Focusing on neighborhood associations in the US from the 1880s to the present the work includes more than 100 signed entries which average one to two pages each Numerous cross references and thorough name and subject indexes are included The excellent bibliographic essay by Robert Fisher contains 12 pages of accessible books articles and papers on the topic as a whole and by time period The editor has also provided a useful introductory essay on the changing notion of neighborhood This well planned and well edited resource is further enhanced by its attractive typography and layout Highly recommended to academic libraries with programs in sociology social work local politics and urban history and to all urban public libraries Choice This new historical dictionary brings together informaton about the formative years of community organization and material on the more recent explosion in the organization of America's urban areas. The organizational activities included in this volume focus on the geographical community rather than on issue-oriented activities. Activities are dedicated to the involvement of neighborhood residents in both the planning and implementation of local activities and share a commitment to provide not only fuller services but also to serve as agents for potential social change.

Urbanism Past & Present, 1978      Fit for Freedom, Not for Friendship Donna McDaniel, Vanessa Julye, 2009 Donna McDaniel and Vanessa Julye document three centuries of Quakers who were committed to ending racial injustices yet with few exceptions hesitated to invite African Americans into their Society. Addressing racism among Quakers of yesterday and today, the authors believe is the path toward a racially inclusive community.

Community Economic Development Lynda Henry Newman, Deborah M. Lyon, Warren B. Philp, 1986      Education, Urban Development, and Local Initiatives Centre for Educational Research and Innovation, 1983 Innovative practices in education and local development in Western Europe, Australia, and the United States are described and analyzed in this report. Part One reviews urban problems, their impact on education, and the need for a new approach. Part Two explores how schools and institutes of adult education can provide information about the local community and in the process teach children and adults how to analyze the community's situation and needs. It also describes community service projects that both address the problems of local development and help individual students to choose careers. Examples given include involvement in social services programs and housing rehabilitation programs. Part Three discusses a variety of projects in which schools and colleges concern themselves with improving the local community's economic situation. Examples presented here are school-based youth enterprises, school business consulting activities, employment training, and skills training programs, and college contributions at the teaching, research, and service levels. Part Four stresses the need for an effective alliance between education and development and offers suggestions for aiding this alliance through changes in teaching methods and curricula. Finally, general issues for analysis and themes for further work are indicated.
