New Insights into Cell and Membrane Transport Processes George Poste, Stanley T. Crooke, 2013-11-11

Advances in Immunology Frederick W. Alt, 2012-10-30 Advances in Immunology a long established and highly respected publication presents current developments as well as comprehensive reviews in immunology Articles address the wide range of topics that comprise immunology including molecular and cellular activation mechanisms phylogeny and molecular evolution and clinical modalities Edited and authored by the foremost scientists in the field each volume provides up to date information and directions for the future Contributions from leading authorities Informs and updates on all the latest developments in the field Cellular Mechanisms of Conditioning and Behavioral Plasticity D.L. Alkon, J.L.

McGaugh, C.D. Woody, 2013-06-29 I would like first to thank Charles Woody and his organizing committee for arranging the symposium on the Cellular Mechanisms of Conditioning and Behavioral Plasticity which was also a satellite meeting of the International Union of Physiological Sciences 30th International Congress The proceedings of this symposium are represented by the chapters that follow During the 1970s Dr Woody and co workers were able to carry out a remarkable series of microelectrode studies both intracellular and extracellular of cortical nerve cells during conditioning of the eye blink response to sound in the intact waking cat He demonstrated enduring changes in excitability and membrane resistance in pericruciate cortical cells during associative conditioning of the eye blink changes that are facilitated by ACh and cGMP and reinforced by stimulation of the hypothalamus the latter confirming the original studies of Voronin These findings have been of considerable importance in our attempt to understand the conditioning process at the cellular level The Role of

Lymphokines in the Immune Response Stanley Cohen, 2024-12-20 This book provides a broad overview of all aspects of modern lymphokine research It begins with the ways in which lymphokines play a role in the activation of the immune response and concludes with their participation in various facets of host defense It devotes special attention to structure mechanism of action and range application In addition this fascinating work also shows how lymphokines are involved in other physiologic responses such as reparative reactions involving fibrosis and angiogenesis This is an excellent resource for students and investigators in the biomedical sciences as well as clinicians who require up to date information about our current understanding of immune processes Calcium and Cell Physiology D. Marme, 2012-12-06 The purpose of the present volume is to give a comprehensive and up to date survey of the nature and role of calcium ions Ca in the regulation of cellular function Since Ca has gained in interest over the past years as a cellular messenger in signal transduction and since the discovery of its cellular receptor protein calmodulin has helped in understanding its mode of action in molecular terms we felt that an interdisciplinary selection of topics from the calcium field could provide a good source of information for all those interested in calcium mediated physiology The volume begins with an overview on the synarchic nature of the two cellular messengers cyclic AMP and Ca The next three chapters deal with the various transport mechanisms for Ca

The biochemistry and molecular biology of calmodulin as well as the cellular localization of calmodulin and calmodulin binding proteins are reviewed Calcium regulation of smooth muscle contraction introduces the pharmacology of calcium antagonists Intracellular Calcium Regulation Hermann Bader,1986 Cell Calcium and the Control of Membrane Transport Society of General Physiologists. Symposium,1987 Epithelial Secretion of Water and Electrolytes John A. Young,Patrick Y.D. Wong,2012-12-06 This volume aims to give a comprehensive overview of the cellular mechanisms underlying the process of secretion in vertebrate particularly mammalian exocrine glands The subject matter is divided into two sections The first section deals with general aspects of secretion including chapters on the roles of ion channels in secretion Signal transduction is also covered and several chapters deal with recently developed investigative techniques that offer promise as tools for the further investigation of exocrine secretory processes The second section deals with secretion in a selection of exocrine organs salivary glands lacrimal glands the pancreas gastric mucosa liver epididymis and vertebrate salt glands A final chapter deals with cystic fibrosis the common fatal inherited disease which affects exocrine glands particularly severely Phosphoinositides and Receptor Mechanisms James W. Putney,1986 Cell Mediated Calcification and Matrix Vesicles S. Yousuf Ali,1986 Drug Receptors and Dynamic Processes in Cells Jens S. Schou,Arne Geisler,Svend Norn,1986 Regulation of Cell Growth and Activation James J. Mond,John C. Cambier,Arthur Weiss,1989 PHOSPHOLIPIDS & CELLULAR REGULATION Jyh-Fa Kuo,1985-01-29 Annual Review of Cell Biology George E. Palade,1987 Cell Membranes Elliot Elson,William A. Frazier,Luis Glaser,1983 Membrane Control of Cellular Activity Hans Christoph Lüttgau,1986 Cell Membranes E. Elson,W. Frazier,L. Glaser,1987-12-31 This volume assembles reviews on topics in two major related areas One of these concerns the interactions of cells with substrata and with other cells which are mediated by the extracellular matrix and soluble molecules As described in this volume these interactions are responsible for controlling cell functions ranging from embryogenesis and neural development to blood clotting More over important properties of the extracellular matrix can be modulated by the interdependent actions of tumor cells and fibroblasts The other major area of interest concerns the response of cells to extracellular signals Recent work has begun to reveal how a remarkable diversity of cellular functions including neuronal proliferative membrane cytoskeletal and many other kinds of re sponses are elicited through the mediation of a relatively small and interdepen dent set of second messenger systems These include both changes in cytoplasmic ionic balances and activation of various kinds of protein kinases Both subjects are covered in this volume The two areas are linked by the common theme of cellular response to an external environment that is sensed through cellular interactions with informational molecules which are soluble agents as well as those that are components of insoluble matrices It is only recently that we have come to appreciate the complex interplay between the matrix surrounding a cell and the cell s response to hormones and growth factors Thus we have tried to select examples in which this type of extracellular integration may play a role Journal of Bioenergetics and

Biomembranes ,1991      The Journal of Neuroscience ,1988      Calcium and the Cell David Evered,1986-10 This collection of presentations from the Ciba Foundation Symposium of 1985 deals with the central role of calcium in intracellular processes Discusses control of intracellular calcium as well as control by intracellular calcium covering such topics as muscle contraction metabolic processes hormone and transmitter secretion membrane transport and permeability cellular architecture and growth and the possible contribution of calcium gradients to early embryonic development Includes carefully edited and extensive almost half the book discussions of chapter topics between active workers in the field at the end of each chapter
