Towards translating research to clinical practice: Novel Strategies for Discovery and Validation of Biomarkers for Brain Injury Stefania Mondello, Ronald L Hayes,András Büki, Frank C Tortella, Kevin K W Wang,2015-02-25 Traumatic brain injury TBI is a major cause of death and disability and one of the greatest unmet needs in medicine and public health TBI not only has devastating effects on patients and their relatives but results in huge direct and indirect costs to society Although guidelines for the management of patients have been developed and more than 200 clinical trials have been conducted they have resulted in few improvements in clinical outcomes and no effective therapies approved for TBI It is now apparent that the heterogeneity of clinical TBI is underlain by molecular phenotypes more complex and interactive than initially conceived and current approaches to the characterization management and outcome prediction of TBI are antiquated unidimensional and inadequate to capture the interindividual pathophysiological heterogeneity Recent advances in proteomics and biomarker development provide unparalleled opportunities for unraveling substantial injury specific and patient specific variability and refining disease characterization The identification of novel sensitive objective tools referred to as biomarkers can revolutionize pathophysiological insights enable targeted therapies and personalized approaches to clinical management In this Research Topic we present novel approaches that provide an infrastructure for discovery and validation of new biomarkers of acute brain injury These techniques include refined mass spectrometry technology and high throughput immunoblot techniques Output from these approaches can identify potential candidate biomarkers employing systems biology and data mining methods In this Research Topic we present novel approaches that provide an infrastructure for discovery and validation of new biomarkers of acute brain injury These techniques include refined mass spectrometry technology and high throughput immunoblot techniques Output from these approaches can identify potential candidate biomarkers employing systems biology and data mining methods Finally suggestions are provided for the way forward with an emphasis on need for a multidimensional approach that integrate a panel of pathobiologically diverse biomarkers with clinical variables and imaging based assessments to improve diagnosis and classification of TBI and to develop best clinical practice guidelines

Subarachnoid Hemorrhage Robert D. Martin,Warren Boling,Gang Chen,John H. Zhang,2019-08-12 This book highlights the latest developments in acute and delayed neurovascular injury studies including delayed cerebral vasospasm early brain injury micro circulation compromise spreading cortical depolarization neuroinflammation and long term cognitive dysfunctions after subarachnoid hemorrhage

About 32 chapters cover original presentations from the 14th international conference on neurovascular events after subarachnoid hemorrhage held in Los Angeles in October 2017. Neurosurgeons, neurologists, and neuro ICU practitioners discuss clinical observations, new pilot treatments, clinical trials, academic and industrial interactions including surgical and endovascular approaches, brain injury monitoring, new developments in brain imaging, ICU management, early brain injury scales and management, counter cortical depolarization management, and anti inflammation management. In addition, animal models used to study acute and delayed neurovascular events, the basic mechanisms of vascular, neuronal, and CSF physiology, new experimental treatment strategies, new frontiers in the treatment of neurovascular injuries, and new research directions are discussed.
