

CULTIVATING CREATIVITY

Provide resources they need for creative expression

Provide a creative space for them, such as a room to play dress up, a place in the garage for painting, or a corner in your living room for Legos. Allow easy access for art supplies, costume pieces and building materials.

Play with storytelling

Help your child get those creative wheels turning by telling them a story. This story could be about anything that you imagine, perhaps it's about your family pet, or the flowers in your garden. When you are done telling your story, ask your child to create one of their own.

Go on a creative outing together

It can be anything from taking a nature walk, visiting the museum, the library or the zoo. These types of expeditions will help you child take in new imagery with the changing scenery, as well as create family bonding. Take some time to list at least five creative expeditions that you and your child can enjoy together.

Encourage your child to participate in the arts

Make time for creative activities by limiting TV and other screen time. Your child can engage in activities, such as rehearsing a play, learning to draw, writing a story, or reading a book.

Allow your children the freedom to explore their ideas and express themselves fully

Let them know that it is okay to color outside of the lines, it's okay to make their own rules when it comes to creative expression.
