Cultural Ergonomics:

Cultural Ergonomics Tonya L. Smith-Jackson, Marc L. Resnick, Kayenda T. Johnson, 2013-12-10 Even when products and systems are highly localized rarely is there one design suitable for a single mono cultural population of users The products and systems created and used are cultural artifacts representing shared cognitions that characterize mental models that result from interactions with physical environments Thus culture is embedded and impacts the extent to which products are usable accessible useful and safe Products and systems that deviate from users mental models may have negative consequences for users ranging from minor annoyance to more serious consequences such as severe injury or death Both an introduction and a primer Cultural Ergonomics Theory Methods and Applications demonstrates how cultural ergonomics can be applied in research and practitioner contexts It covers selection of theories descriptions of research designs methods to analyze the results case studies and strategies used to draw inferences and conclusions in a vast array of areas including occupational safety global issues emergency management human computer interaction warnings and risk communications and product design Human factors ergonomics as a discipline is slowly integrating cultural ergonomics into efforts to explore human capabilities and limitations in the context of design and evaluation Edited by experts and containing contributions from pioneers in this area this book provides examples and methodologies within a human factors framework It provides systematic methods to apply what is learned from analysis of culture to the design development and evaluation of products and systems

Healthcare, Waldemar Karwowski, 2006-03-15 The previous edition of the International Encyclopedia of Ergonomics and Human Factors made history as the first unified source of reliable information drawn from many realms of science and technology and created specifically with ergonomics professionals in mind It was also a winner of the Best Reference Award 2002 from the Engineering Libraries

Global Ergonomics P.A. Scott, J. Charteris, R.S. Bridger, 1998-09-01 Jointly hosted by the Ergonomics Society of South Africa ESSA and the International Ergonomics Association IEA this conference was attended by over 300 delegates and represented the largest and most prestigious gathering of eminent international ergonomists in the history of Africa It also marked the beginning of a revival in concern for the well being and productivity of people at work in South Africa The conference aimed to juxtapose two great ergonomic themes the under developed ethos of the affluent societies and the technologically advanced ethos of the most affluent societies The structure of the proceedings reflects this with the first section addressing the priorities of countries in transition and the last section addressing the priorities of the most industrially developed countries who have by and large long since solved the sorts of ergonomics problems currently of concern in the under developed world In between these in a roughly hierarchical arrangement from micro to macro levels of analysis are sections which collectively help span the whole field of ergonomics Section overviews are provided to outline the topics included in each section
