Professional Social Service Delivery in a Multicultural World Gwat Yong Lie, David Este, 1999 The focus of this book is on the type of competencies that need to be acquired and the process for acquiring the knowledge values and skills germane to those competencies Contributors were encouraged to draw from actual experiences and to incorporate true examples to substantiate points and illustrate abstract ideas The book is divided into two major parts The implications of Canada's multicultural policy for professionals in the social service arena are presented first how the policy came to be and the resulting emergent call for culturally competent professionals to deliver culturally appropriate social services The second part addresses the implications of Canada's multicultural policy for social services practice for management administration and organizational change in social service agencies and organizations for research and practice evaluation and for professional education and training and continuing education The Research Process in the Human Services Leslie B. Alexander, Phyllis L. Solomon, 2006 Understand the process of research on a daily basis with THE RESEARCH PROCESS IN HUMAN SERVICES BEHIND THE SCENES This human services text includes twenty original research articles that provide you with models for your own work Each article is accompanied by commentaries from the articles authors in which they describe how and why they came to do the research concerns in the design and conduct of the study their own views about the strengths and limitations of the research advice about future research in the area and human subjects issues including working with IRBs Through this presentation the text documents the lived experience of doing research including its challenges as well as its joys

Contemporary Human Behavior Theory Susan P. Robbins, Pranab Chatterjee, Edward R. Canda, 2006 This covers both the traditional and the most current and contemporary theories from a comparative theory perspective Intended to be a source for comparison purposes it is organized to include contemporary developments in traditional lifespan of the theory coverage of the research that supports it an analysis of the validity of that research and a discussion of updated contemporary issues It also includes new content on ecofeminism neurobiology neurotransmission and behavior feminist standpoint theory theories of bisexual and transgender identity development the role of shame in women's development ethnic cultural identity development and cultural competence theories of political economy and transpersonal theory An Empowering Approach to Managing Social Service Organizations Donna Hardina, 2007 Print CourseSmart Social Work Practice and People of Color Doman Lum, 2004 This text offers a practical and well defined five stage model of social work practice with culturally diverse communities While the book specifically looks at practice with persons of color African American Asian American Latino and First Nations people it is intended to be relevant for culturally and ethnically sensitive practice with any individual or population Human Behavior in the Social Environment José B. Ashford, Craig W. LeCroy, Kathy L. Lortie, 2006 Ashford LeCroy and Lortie's ground breaking book offers students a balanced integrated introduction to human behavior in the social environment. Lively and comprehensive, this book succeeds by helping students connect foundation knowledge with practice concerns. Clarified through the introduction of study tables and concept maps at the end of each discussion, behavior in the development chapters, the authors look at biopsychosocial development across the life span using an integrative multidimensional approach, discussing integrative practice, theory, treatment, and services throughout. This multidimensional framework provides a concrete tool for the reader to assess human behavior from a perspective that truly reflects the values and knowledge base of the social work profession. Together, the book's solid coverage of foundation knowledge, integration of the biopsychosocial dimensions for assessing social functioning, its multidimensional framework, and its use of case studies to illuminate the applied aspects of HBSE content, along with the authors' consistent attention to diversity, successfully combine to give readers a meaningful, exciting experience.

Culturally Competent Practice Doman Lum, 1999 On cultural competence in social work

Encyclopedia of Multiculturalism, Supplement: 1998 . Mfume, Kweisi-Wyatt v. Strickley, 1998

Human Behavior in the Social Environment John F. Longres, 2000 This book provides a good deal of content to support practice with individuals and families, the mainstay of social work practice. Three chapters are devoted to the individual life span, another to theories about the individual as a social system, and two others to the concept of person in environment. Yet the major contribution of the book is its in-depth coverage of the communities, organizations, groups, and families in which individuals live.

Experiences on the Journey Toward Cultural Competence Anne Elizabeth Tellett, 2004

The Encyclopedia of Social Work Terry Mizrahi, Larry Davis, 2008-04-24 This 20e contains 400 articles which represent a thoroughly updated and expanded look at the entire field of social work. The 4 volumes cover all aspects of social work from practice interventions, social environments, social conditions, and challenges to social policy and history. Co-published by OUP and the National Assoc of Social Workers USA

Journal of Education for Social Work, 2002
