Cultural Critique 58 Fall 2004 Globalization And Popular Culture:

Globalization and War Tarak Barkawi, 2006 Examining the interconnections between globalization and war Barkawi Centre of International Studies U of Cambridge UK first analyzes how war interconnects and reshapes places and how developments in the nature and utility of military force shape transregional and worldwide contexts utilizing the relations among India the British empire and the Indian Army is illustrative material He then examines cultural dimensions of war and globalization such as geographic imaginaries of a modern and advance West and a barbarous Orient The themes developed in these chapters are then applied to the War on Terror

The Material of World History Tina Mai Chen, David S. Churchill, 2015-03-27 This volume considers the confluence of World History and historical materialism with the following guiding question in mind given developments in the field of historical materialism concerned with the intersection of race gender labour and class why is it that within the field of World History historical materialism has been marginalized precisely as World History orients toward transnational socio cultural phenomenon micro studies or global histories of networks Answering this question requires thinking in an inter related manner about both the development of World History as a discipline and the place of economic determinism in historical materialism This book takes the position that historical materialism as applied to the field of World History needs to be more open to the methodological diversity of the materialist tradition and to refuse narrowly deterministic frameworks that have led to marginalization of materialist cultural analysis in studies of global capitalism At the same time World History needs to be more self critical of the methodological diversity it has welcomed through a largely inclusionary framework that allows the material to be considered separately from cultural social and intellectual dimensions of global processes

Representations of War, Migration, and Refugeehood Daniel H. Rellstab, Christiane Schlote, 2014-09-19 War migration and refugeehood are inextricably linked and the complex nature of all three phenomena offers profound opportunities for representation and misrepresentation This volume brings together international contributors and practitioners from a wide range of fields practices and backgrounds to explore and problematize textual and visual inscriptions of war and migration in the arts the media and in academic public and political discourses The essays in this collection address the academic and political interest in representations of the migrant and the refugee and examine the constructed nature of categories and concepts such as war refugee e victim border home non place and dis location Contributing authors engage with some of the most pressing questions surrounding war migration and refugeehood as well as with the ways in which war and its multifarious effects and repercussions in society are being framed propagated glorified or contested This volume initiates an interdisciplinary debate which re evaluates the relationship between war migration and refugeehood and their representations

The Chartist General Edward Beasley, 2016-11-03 General Charles James Napier was sent to confront the tens of thousands of Chartist protestors marching through the cities of the North of England in the late 1830s A well known leftist who agreed with the Chartist demands for democracy Napier managed to keep the peace In South Asia the same man would later provoke a war and conquer Sind In this first ever scholarly biography of Napier Edward Beasley asks how the conventional depictions of the man as a peacemaker in England and a warmonger in Asia can be reconciled Employing deep archival research and close readings of Napier s published books ignored by prior scholars this well written volume demonstrates that Napier was a liberal imperialist who believed that if freedom was right for the people of England it was right for the people of Sind even if freedom had to be imposed by military force Napier also confronted the messy aftermath of Western conquest carrying out nation building with mixed success trying to end the honour killing of women and eventually discovering the limits of imperial interference Hollywood's
