Competition Law's Innovation Factor Viktoria H S E Robertson,2020-02-06 In recent years market definition has come under attack as an analytical tool of competition law Scholars have increasingly questioned its usefulness and feasibility That criticism comes into sharper relief in dynamic innovation driven markets which do not correspond to the static markets on which the concept of the relevant market was modelled This book explores that controversy from a comparative legal perspective taking into account both EU competition and US antitrust law It examines the manifold ways in which courts and competition authorities in the EU and US have factored innovation related considerations into market delineation covering innovative product markets product differentiation future markets issues going beyond market definition proper such as innovation competition innovation markets and potential competition intellectual property rights innovative aftermarkets and multi sided platforms This book finds that going forward the role of market definition in dynamic contexts needs to focus on its function of market characterisation rather than on the assessment of market power

Promoting Competition in Innovation Through Merger Control in the ICT Sector Kalpana Tyagi,2019-06-21 This book addresses the question of how competition authorities assess mergers in the Information Communication Technology ICT sector so as to promote competition in innovation A closer look at the question reveals that it is far more complex and difficult to answer for the ICT telecommunications and multi sided platform MSP economy than for more traditional sectors of the economy This has led many scholars to re think and question whether the current merger control framework is suitable for the ICT sector which is often also referred to as the new economy The book pursues an interdisciplinary approach combining insights from law economics and corporate strategy Further it has a comparative dimension as it discusses the practices of the US the EU and wherever relevant of other competition authorities from around the globe Considering that the research was conducted in the EU the practices of the European Commission remain a key aspect of the content Considering its normative dimension the book concentrates on the substantive aspects of merger control To facilitate a better understanding of the most important points the book also offers a brief overview of the procedural aspects of merger control in the EU the US and the UK and discusses recent amendments to Austrian and German law regarding the notification threshold Given its scope the book offers an invaluable guide for competition law scholars practitioners in the field and competition authorities worldwide

Toward a Prosecutor for the European Union Volume 1 Katalin Ligeti,2012-12-17 This is the first of a two volume work which presents the results of a study carried out by a group of European criminal law experts with the financial support of the EU Commission in 2010 2011 whose aims were to examine in detail current public prosecution systems in the Member States and to scrutinise proposals for a new European office Director's Report British Institute of International and Comparative Law, 2003

Sustainability Objectives in Competition and Intellectual Property Law Pranvera Këllezi, Pierre Kobel, Bruce Kilpatrick, 2024-01-13 This open access volume of LIDC contributions focuses on how competition and intellectual property laws incorporate sustainability objectives Businesses are increasingly embracing sustainability objectives driven by the international community Although competition and intellectual property law are certainly not the only tools for addressing sustainability issues they can play a role in moving toward a more sustainable society Sustainability has gained prominence in competition law in all jurisdictions covered in this volume The contributions focus on classic questions such as whether sustainability agreements restrict competition and if so to what extent businesses can be exempted on efficiency grounds The papers also raise a number of questions in particular concerning the treatment of non market efficiencies The soft law and case law produced by competition authorities are examined and the leadership role of some competition authorities in the field from advocacy to policy papers and sustainability guidelines is highlighted The authors call for more individual guidance to provide enhanced transparency and clarity to industry advisors and society at large on sustainability issues with guidelines or sustainability related block exemptions providing even greater legal certainty With regard to intellectual property the contributions examine various important issues such as the need for intellectual property rights to remain technology neutral ways to promote the use of sustainable technologies and incentives for licensing and ways to promote the dissemination of sustainable technologies including compulsory licensing cross licensing open source or FRAND licensing and replacing the destruction of counterfeit goods with recycling The papers also discuss greenwashing and how it can be addressed through revisions to trademarks and related rights Cross-Border EU
