Culture Hourani:

An Analysis of Albert Hourani's A History of the Arab Peoples Brown, Bryan Gibson, 2017-07-05 Few works of history make as well structured a case for the importance of studying continuity rather than change than Albert Hourani's A History of the Arab Peoples. Hourani's work had three major aims: to refute the idea that Arab society stagnated between 1000 and 1800; to study the period through the lens of diverse Arab rather than Muslim history; and to stress intellectual and cultural continuity. All of these intentions were the product of the author's evaluation of a great mass of secondary sources, many of them devoted to arguing for ideas that contradicted his, and it demanded considerable skill to synthesize from them a coherent and well-evidenced counter-argument. Hourani was able to do this largely because his grasp of the relevance and adequacy of his predecessors' arguments was second to none; his achievement lies in his ability to reject the reasoning of other historians while still making good use of their evidence. In this task he was aided by an interpretative skill almost equal to his powers of evaluation. A History of the Arab Peoples is also a monument to the importance of properly understanding the meaning of available evidence. Between Argentines and Arabs Christina Civantos, 2006-06-01 Summary Examines the presence of Arabs and the Arab world in nineteenth and twentieth century Argentine literature by juxtaposing works by Argentines of European descent and those written by Arab immigrants in Argentina. Between Argentines and Arabs is a groundbreaking contribution to two growing fields: the study of immigrants and minorities in Latin America and the study of the Arab diaspora. As a literary and cultural study, this book examines the textual dialogue between Argentines of European descent and Arab immigrants to Argentina from the mid 1800s to the mid 1900s. Using methods drawn from literary analysis and cultural studies, Christina Civantos shows that the Arab presence is twofold: the Arab and the Orient are an imagined figure and space within the texts produced by Euro-Argentine intellectuals; and immigrants from the Arab world are an actual community producing their own texts within the multiethnic Argentine nation. This book is both a literary history of Argentine Orientalist literature and Arab Argentine immigrant literature and a critical analysis of how the formation of identities in these two bodies of work is interconnected. Winning the Needed Change Ignacio Pichardo Pagaza, Demetrios Argyriades, 2009 Winning The Needed Change: Saving our Planet Earth represents the outcome of long deliberations and systematic exchanges among the several members of a truly global team. It reflects a diversity of viewpoints and makes no claim to finality. However, it represents an effort to carry the debate which started with the establishment of the International Institute of Administrative Sciences (IIAS) or arguably much earlier, one step further onto the planetary level. The Cellular Basis of Morphogenesis Leon W. Browder, 1986-05-31 This series was established to create comprehensive treatises on specialized topics in developmental biology. Such volumes are especially vital in developmental biology since it is a very diverse field that receives contributions from a wide variety of disciplines. This series is a meeting ground for the various practitioners of this science, facilitating an integration of heterogeneous information on specific topics Each volume is intended to provide the conceptual basis for a comprehensive understanding of its topic as well as an analysis of the key experiments upon which that understanding is based The specialist in any aspect of developmental biology should understand the experimental background of the field and be able to place that body of information in context to ascertain where additional research would be fruitful At that point the creative process takes over and new experiments are designed This series is intended to be a vital link in that ongoing process of learning and discovery If it facilitates scholarship it will serve an important function
