Death Puppet:

Death Puppet Jim Nisbet, 1989 My Profession Sergei Obraztsov, 2001 A profile of the author's life as a famous Soviet puppeteer and puppet theatre director. He describes childhood impressions, writes of earlier professions as artist and actor, and finally about his personal experiences with puppetry which helped him achieve mastery of his craft. Born in Moscow in 1901, he describes every step he took to his profession, how he worked on individual productions, and an account of all of his productions. In the 1920s, Sergei Obraztsov founded the State Central Puppet Theatre in Moscow, the biggest in Russia, an educational center for professional and amateur theatre groups. The center houses the museum of theatrical puppets, a library on the theme, manuscript and pedagogical departments, and one of the world's largest collections of theatrical puppets, about 3000 from 50 countries. Now over 50 years old, The Sergei Obraztsov Central Puppet Show has entertained tens of thousands of fans in 50 different countries with a witty program that parodies slipshod variety performances. Death Dictionary Christine Quigley, 2024-10-17 From police jargon to medical terminology, from the coarse language of death row to literary euphemisms, over 550 words and terms associated directly with death and dying are defined in this unique dictionary. The entries have been collected from 65 cultures, nine religions, and 20 fields of study, including archeology, cryonics, theology, theater, and the military. Definitions are identified, e.g., archaic, obsolete, slang, and when appropriate, the occupation it is most closely connected to, and variants of the expression are provided. The appended thesaurus gives commonly used words and the terms that are synonymous with them. The Golden Bough Sir James George Frazer, 1922 The Life & Death of Tom Thumb the Great, & Some Miscellaneous Writings Henry Fielding, 1902 Magical Thinking Augusten Burroughs, 2024-10-15 From the #1 bestselling author of Running with Scissors and Dry, a contagiously funny, heartwarming, shocking, twisted, and absolutely magical collection of true stories that give voice to the thoughts we all have but dare not mention. It begins with a Tang Instant Breakfast Drink television commercial when Augusten was seven. Then there is the contest of wills with the deranged cleaning lady, the execution of a rodent carried out with military precision, and utter horror, telemarketing revenge, dating an undertaker, and much more. A collection of true stories that are universal in their appeal yet unabashedly intimate and very funny. The life and death of Tom Thumb the Great, and some miscellaneous writings Henry Fielding, 1902 The Golden Bough James George Frazer, 1922 The Golden Bough describes our ancestors' primitive methods of worship, sex practices, strange rituals, and festivals. Disproving the popular thought that primitive life was simple, this monumental survey shows that savage man was enmeshed in a tangle of magic, taboos, and superstitions. Revealed here is the evolution of man from savagery to civilization, from the modification of his weird and often bloodthirsty customs to the entry of lasting moral, ethical, and spiritual values. Goodreads.com Religion and Culture in Germany (1400-1800) Robert Scribner, 2021-10-18 The late Bob Scribner was one of the most original and provocative historians of the German Reformation. His truly pioneering spirit comes to light in this collection of his most recent essays. In the years before his death,

Scribner explored the role of the senses in late medieval devotional culture and wondered how the Reformation changed sensual attitudes. Further essays examine the nature of popular culture and the way the Reformation was institutionalised considering Anabaptist ideals of the community of goods, literacy and heterodoxy and the dynamics of power as they unfold in a case of witchcraft. The final section of the book consists of three iconoclastic essays which together form a sustained assault on the argument first advanced by Max Weber that the Reformation created a rational modern religion. Scribner shows that far from being rationalist and anti-magical, Protestants had their own brand of magic. These fine essays are certain to spark off debate not only among historians of the Reformation but also among art historians and anyone interested in the nature of culture.

The Life and Death of Tom Thumb the Great Henry Fielding, 1893 Theater of Lockdown Barbara Fuchs, 2021-09-09 Offering one of the first scholarly examinations of digital and distanced performance since the global shutdown of theaters in March 2020, Barbara Fuchs provides both a record of the changes and a framework for thinking through theater's transformation. Though born of necessity, recent productions offer a new world of practice from multi-platform plays on Zoom, WhatsApp and Instagram to enhancement via filters and augmented reality to urban distanced theater that enlivens streetscapes and building courtyards. Based largely outside the commercial theater, these productions transcend geographic and financial barriers to access new audiences while offering a lifeline to artists. This study charts how virtual theater puts pressure on existing assumptions and definitions, transforming the conditions of both theater-making and viewership. How are participatory, site-specific or devised theater altered under physical distancing requirements? How do digital productions blur the line between film and theater? What does liveness mean in a time of pandemic? In its seven chapters, Theater of Lockdown focuses on digital and distanced productions from the Americas, Europe and Australia, offering scholarly analysis and interviews. Productions examined include Theater in Quarantine's closet work in New York, Forced Entertainment's Sheffield UK End Meeting for All I, II and III, the work of Madrid-based company Grumelot and the virtuosic showmanship of EFE Tres in Mexico City.
