Indigenous Peoples Within Canada Olive Patricia Dickason, William Newbigging, Cary Miller, 2022-12 Indigenous Peoples within Canada is a seminal text in the field of Indigenous history in Canada It spans the full history of Indigenous Peoples beginning with origin stories and the pre contact era and then tracing the development of Indigenous European relations from contact to the presentday The final chapters include updated content on contemporary events such as Wet suwet en activism at Wa Dzun Kwuh and Pope Francis recent apology for residential school abuses Indigenous perspectives are centred throughout with Indigenous interpretations of historical events and Indigenous contributions to the history of what is now Canada foregrounded Indigenous voices are further amplified through the use of autonyms profiles of Indigenous leaders art by Indigenous artists and an expanded transborder perspective that reflects Indigenous views of the land that is now North America The clear accessible writing style and many pedagogical features including an autonym chart and timelines and maps in every chapter aid student comprehension throughout the text

The First Nations of Ontario Edward J. Hedican, 2017-08-11 As John Steckley writes in his Foreword this unique text provides something that has been missing from the literature for too long the first comprehensive overview of the histories cultures and socio economic conditions of the First Nations of Ontario the province territory with the highest Indigenous population in Canada Situated within the larger context of Canadian Indigenous issues anthropologist Edward J Hedican provides an accessible introduction to the complex and diverse histories of the First Nations of Ontario from early prehistoric times to contemporary day Each chapter incorporates the voices and perspectives of Indigenous peoples on topics such as treaties the archaeology of early Ontario neo colonial trends restorative justice and the present challenges facing Indigenous communities With an annotated list of online resources a glossary of important terms and an extensive appendix providing information on every First Nation in Ontario this text is an invaluable resource both for students in Indigenous Studies and Anthropology as well as for anyone interested in the rich culture and heritage of the First Nations of Ontario

Indigenous Peoples and the Second World War R. Scott Sheffield, Noah Riseman, 2019 A transnational history of how Indigenous peoples mobilised en masse to support the war effort on the battlefields and the home fronts

Indigenous Women's Theatre in Canada Sarah MacKenzie, 2020-11-15T00:00:00Z Despite a recent increase in the productivity and popularity of Indigenous playwrights in Canada most critical and academic attention has been devoted to the work of male dramatists leaving female writers on the margins In Indigenous Women's Theatre in Canada Sarah MacKenzie addresses this critical gap by focusing on plays by Indigenous women written and produced in the socio cultural milieu of twentieth and twenty first century Canada Closely analyzing dramatic texts by Monique Mojica Marie Clements and Yvette Nolan MacKenzie explores representations of gendered colonialist violence in order to determine the varying ways in which these representations are employed subversively and informatively by Indigenous women These plays provide an avenue for individual and potential cultural healing by deconstructing some of the harmful ideological work performed by colonial misrepresentations of Indigeneity and demonstrate the strength and persistence of Indigenous women offering a space in which decolonial futurisms can be envisioned In this unique work MacKenzie suggests that colonialist misrepresentations of Indigenous women have served to perpetuate demeaning stereotypes justifying devaluation of and violence against Indigenous women Most significantly however she argues that resistant representations in Indigenous women s dramatic writing and production work in direct opposition to such representational and manifest violence
