Defining Cinema:

Defining Cinema Peter Lehman, 1997 On film studies Defining Cinema Michael Slowik, 2024 Defining Cinema Rouben Mamoulian and Hollywood Film Style 1929 1957 takes a holistic look at Mamoulian's oeuvre by examining both his stage and his screen work and also brings together insights from his correspondence his theories on film and analysis of the films themselves It presents a filmmaker whose work was innovative and exciting who pushed hard on cinema's potential as an artform and who in many ways helped move cinema towards the kind of entertainment that it remains today Defining Cinema Peter Lehman, 1997 Defining Cinema is the first book to bring together leading theorists and scholars to discuss the importance of film theory to cinema studies Peter Lehman introduces the volume by explaining what constitutes film theory and outlining the major positions within the field by placing these five theorists and their work within a historical perspective Andre Bazin and Siegfried Kracauer represent realist film theories and Sergei Eisenstein represents a formalist position Noel Burch and Christian Metz are contemporary theorists who have moved beyond the classical realist formalist opposition Burch's theory encompasses films and styles praised by both Bazin and Eisenstein and Metz helped bring semiotics and psychoanalytic theory to prominence in the field Cinema Genre Raphaëlle Moine, 2008-06-03 Offers a theoretical overview of the topic of genre as practiced in British American and French film criticism This book uses examples from classic Hollywood cinema as well as some more contemporary examples from European or Asian cinema that are so often neglected by other studies in the field Dreamworks, 1986 The Search for Cinema David Robert Katz, 1986 Arachnē, 1996 Britain and the American Cinema Tom Ryall, 2001 This book looks at aspects of the relationship between British and American cinema covering the period from the First World War until the 1960s It deals with the ways in which the two industries have sought to intervene in the affairs of the other and examines how British subject matter drawn from history literature drama biography has had a place in the American film since the earliest days The history of the British cinema its institutions and its films has been closely intertwined with the history of the American cinema since films were first made and viewed in the late 19th century In many ways it has been a one-sided relationship with Hollywood exerting a powerful influence on the British film industry Writing Cinema Aaron Andrew Gerow, 1992 Cinema Craftsmanship Frances Taylor Patterson, 1921 Cinema Craftsmanship Frances Taylor Patterson, 1920 Asian Cinemas Dimitris Eleftheriotis, Gary Needham, 2006 This book takes a number of detailed case studies and uses them to investigate the limitations of Anglo US theoretical models and critical paradigms in the study of Asian Cinema To-day's Cinema News and Property Gazette, 1913 The Cinema of Russia and the Former Soviet Union Birgit Beumers, 2007 This volume explores the cinema of the former Soviet Union and contemporary Russia ranging from the pre Revolutionary period to the present day It offers an insight into the development of Soviet film from the most important of all arts as a propaganda tool to a means of entertainment in the Stalin era from the rise of its dissident art house cinema in the 1960s through the glasnost era with its broken taboos to recent Russian blockbusters Films have been chosen to represent both the classics of Russian and Soviet cinema as well as those films that had a more localised success and remain to date part of Russia's cultural reference system The volume also covers a range of national film industries of the former Soviet Union in chapters on the greatest films and directors of Ukrainian Kazakh Georgian and Armenian cinematography Films discussed include Strike 1925 Earth 1930 Ivan's Childhood 1962 Mother and Son 1997 and Brother 1997 Film Archetypes Janice R. Welsch,1978 Electronic Engineering ,1929 Filmmakers ,1978 Canadian Journal of Film Studies ,2005

International Review of Educational Cinematography ,1929 The Evolution of Film Janet Harbord,2007-03-12 How is film changing What does it do and what do we do with it This book examines the reasons why we should be studying film in the twenty first century connecting debates from philosophy anthropology and new media with historical concerns of film studies When the common frameworks for studying film the nation identity representation Hollywood industry have ceased to yield explanatory power how do we conceive of film's doings In this fresh and innovative book Janet Harbord argues that film no longer represents or stands in for particular cultures but acts isomorphically showing us how the world works Film here is action energy matter moving across space to forge connections provide encounters and create schisms in our knowledge of others The book brings together key thinkers of the contemporary in an innovative exchange between film and theory Marc Auge's concept of non place is brought to bear on and disrupt the category of national cinema Manuel DeLanda's notion of morphogenesis frames an understanding of film as a process of constant evolution in which the terms of change are immanent to matter itself And the concept of inertia from Paul Virilio's work allows us to comprehend the different energies of film Arguing that there is no higher position from which to view the present either in theory or in film we move blindly and yet with faith discovering the present frame by frame The Evolution of Film demonstrates how this is an intangible yet critical medium in the contemporary mediating relationships to place technology and thought itself The Evolution of Film will be essential reading for students and scholars of film at all levels
