

The key elements of women's economic empowerment and resilience

Win-Win Strategies/Women Win (WWS/WW) strongly believes that women's economic empowerment and resilience (WEE/R) requires a building block approach to address the underlying structural barriers that women face in their economic efforts. It identified eight building blocks that together create an enabling environment of access, voice and agency that allows women to achieve lasting economic advancement.

Creating or sustaining these building blocks requires action by the private sector, public sector, and civil society notably women's organizations, in a concerted way e.g. through multi-stakeholder collaboration. For each of the building blocks, tools and resources are available, e.g. the toolkits developed by the UN High Level Panel on WEE/R, and IFC's support to women's entrepreneurship and employment.

Covid-19 has catalysed a new-found urgency for business to become more resilient as supply chain disruptions have rippled around the globe. As such, this is a critical moment to examine the broader role of women in value chains through gender-responsive due diligence. This process can guide companies to identify barriers to women's economic empowerment and resilience, which supports business continuity. Jobs with decent work conditions that are sustained by markets, while giving women voice and access to social dialogue will build women's economic resilience and business resilience.
