ABSTRACT Kurichiyans are one of the Scheduled Tribes of Kerala practicing agriculture. Pandal pattu is an initiation ritual for girls. It is an elaborate ritual with group singing which act as a meta-social form for expressing the social relationships of the actors, or participants in the shape of concrete images or symbols. Some of the concepts related with fertility are also expressed and consequent linking of every individual to his own culture.

INTRODUCTION

In any society whether it is a caste or a tribe, ceremonies and rituals play a significant role in the smooth functioning of political, religious, economic and social spheres. In the case of tribal societies, ceremonies are expensive with regard to their income. However they celebrate each and every ceremony with due consideration and sanctity, as these ceremonies and rituals have certain social values. More over it expens group behaviour, which includes beliefs and customs of the group concerning life and culture.

According to Radcliffe-Brown, “rituals in a culture are meaningful activities, that are considered valuable and which are collective expression of sentiments. Certain rituals also express and sustain the corporate identity of social groups. Ritual actions functions to maintain the dialectical relationship between the individual mind and the communal order through the mediation of collective representations. Actually these collective representations also have a social function. In this paper an attempt has been made to analyse the symbolic activities of fertility concept in a female initiation ritual called ‘pandalpattu’ performed by the Kurichiyans, an agricultural tribe of Wayanad District.

ORIGIN MYTH OF KURICHIYAN

In the distant past before creation, they sky was on the top and the earth lies far below covered by the sea. At that time Vadakkari Bhagavathi, the Kurichiya deity had a dream in which the almighty ordered her to find out a place to create 1001 castes. God also allowed her to move the sea side wards and then starts work. Young virgins were given as labourers. On completion of the work the worker went out to meet the God and asked for remuneration. But he objected to give the remuneration before examining the quality of the work. God created a bird called ‘Cherthamangalackshi’ (hind form a red lotus) and asked the bird to fly around the earth and find out the quality of the work. After examination the bird found out a fault that in one place the work was incomplete. Two hills were standing close to each other without touching one another. There was also water in between these hills. On both the hills god created and placed 18 human castes, different types of animals and plants. Kurichiya believe that they are one among them.

SOCIETY

Kurichiyans are a matrilineal tribe of Kerala distributed mainly in Wayanad and Kannur districts. They are also known as ‘Hill Brahmins’. The word Kurichiyans is derived from two words, ‘kuri’ and ‘chiyan’. The word ‘kuri’ means target and ‘chiyan’ means people. So Kurichiyans are the people who can shoot at the target. This is an indication that they are experts in archery. They exhibit pollution with all the other tribes and castes except Nairs and Namboothiris.

Generally their houses are found in clusters and cluster of houses in one settlement is called ‘mittom’ also known as ‘tharavada’. A lineage head called ‘karanavar’ heads a ‘mittom’. In addition to ‘karanavar’, Kurichiya society includes medicine man, and other social
