Colour Films in Britain Sarah Street, 2019-07-25 How did the coming of colour change the British film industry Unlike sound the arrival of colour did not revolutionise the industry overnight For British film makers and enthusiasts colour was a controversial topic While it was greeted by some as an exciting development with scope for developing a uniquely British aesthetic others were deeply concerned How would audiences accustomed to seeing black and white films which were commonly regarded as being superior to their garish colour counterparts react Yet despite this initial trepidation colour captivated many British inventors and film makers Using different colour processes these innovators produced films that demonstrated remarkable experimentation and quality Sarah Street's illuminating study is the first to trace the history of colour in British cinema and analyses the use of colour in a range of films both fiction and non fiction including The Open Road The Glorious Adventure This is Colour Blithe Spirit This Happy Breed Black Narcissus The Red Shoes The Tales of Hoffmann and Moulin Rouge Beautifully illustrated with full colour film stills this important study provides fascinating insights into the complex process whereby the challenges and opportunities of new technologies are negotiated within creative practice The book also includes a Technical Appendix by Simon Brown Kingston University UK which provides further details of the range of colour processes used by British film makers

Chromatic Modernity Sarah Street, Joshua Yumibe, 2019-04-02 The era of silent film long seen as black and white has been revealed in recent scholarship as bursting with color Yet the 1920s remain thought of as a transitional decade between early cinema and the rise of Technicolor despite the fact that new color technologies used in film advertising fashion and industry reshaped cinema and consumer culture In Chromatic Modernity Sarah Street and Joshua Yumibe provide a revelatory history of how the use of color in film during the 1920s played a key role in creating a chromatically vibrant culture Focusing on the final decade of silent film Street and Yumibe portray the 1920s as a pivotal and profoundly chromatic period of cosmopolitan exchange collaboration and experimentation in and around cinema Chromatic Modernity explores contemporary debates over color's artistic scientific philosophical and educational significance It examines a wide range of European and American films including Opus 1 1921 L'Inhumaine 1923 Die Nibelungen 1924 The Phantom of the Opera 1925 The Lodger 1927 Napoli on 1927 and Dracula 1932 A comprehensive comparative study that situates film among developments in art color science and industry Chromatic Modernity reveals the role of color cinema in forging new ways of looking at and experiencing the modern world
