408 Squadron History:

The Crucible of War, 1939-1945 Brereton Greenhous, Sydney F. Wise, Canada. Department of National Defence, Canada. Royal Canadian Air Force, Stephen J. Harris, William C. Johnston, William C. Rawling, 1994-01-01 The RCAF with a total strength of 4061 officers and men on 1 September 1939 grew by the end of the war to a strength of more than 263 000 men and women This important and well illustrated new history shows how they contributed to the resolution of the most significant conflict of our time

6 Group Bomber Command Chris Ward, 2010-06-15 6 Group was born out of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan BCATP which among other things called for the formation of 25 Canadian Squadrons in Britain This figure was later downsized The Canadian vision was of a Canadian force operating independently alongside Bomber Command in the manner of the American 8th but skillfull negotiating by the British resulted in Canadian Bomber squadrons operating within the RAF under RAF control but funded by Canada On the 1st of January 1943 most of the existing RCAF squadrons were brought together on stations in North Yorkshire and County Durham to form 6 Group By the end of the war 14 Squadrons were operational and one other had been posted to the Pathfinders After an uncertain beginning the Group became an efficient and valuable contributor to Bomber Command s campaigns Beginning predominantly with Wellingtons the Group was re equipped with a mixture of Halifaxes and Lancasters including the Hercules powered MkII and the Canadian built MKX

5 Group Bomber Command Chris Ward, 2007 During the immediate period before World War Two the RAF modified its command structure to rationalize for rapid expansion Bomber Command was divided into six operational groups each flying the same type of aircraft In 1939 5 Group was flying the Handley Page Hampden a fast modern aircraft that carried a large payload However during the early daylight raids into enemy occupied Europe it suffered great losses due to its defensive armament leaving too many blind spots The Group now turned to night bombing and mine laying operations During November 1940 the first Avro Manchesters entered service but were to prove dangerously unreliable It was not until the Avro Lancaster began arriving in strength that the Group began its proud history of successful and often highly dangerous raids into the Reich the most famous of which was No 617 Squadron s attack on the Mohne Eder and Sorpe dams Between 1939 and 1945 the Group flew 70 351 sorties with the loss of 1 888 aircraft This book contains a lengthy narrative of the group s operations and contains individual squadron statistics their commanding officers stations and aircraft losses It provides a detailed reference for one of the RAF s most important and successful operational groups
