Play and Creativity in Art Teaching George E. Szekely,2015 In Play and Creativity in Art Teaching esteemed art educator George Szekely draws on his two classic volumes Encouraging Creativity in Art Lessons and From Play to Art to create a new book for new times The central premise is that art teachers are not only a source of knowledge about art but also a catalyst for creating conditions that encourage students to use their own ideas for making art By observing children at play and using props and situations familiar to them teachers can build on children's energy and self-initiated discoveries to inspire school art that comes from the child's imagination. The foundation of this teaching approach is the belief that the essential goal of art teaching is to inspire children to behave like artists that art comes from within themselves and not from the art teacher. Play and Creativity in Art Teaching offers plans for the study of children's play and for discovering creative art teaching as a way to bring play into the art room. While it does not offer a teaching formula or a single set of techniques to be followed, it demystifies art and shows how teachers can help children find art in familiar and ordinary places accessible to everyone. This book also speaks to parents and the important roles they can play in supporting school art programs and nourishing the creativity of their children. Publisher's description

The Role of Discipline-based Art Education in America's Schools Elliot W. Eisner, 1986 Artisan or Artist?

Gordon Sutton, 2014-05-12 Artisan or Artist: A History of the Teaching of Art and Crafts in English Schools provides information pertinent to the origin of the teaching of art and crafts in English schools. This book discusses the fundamental aspects of art education in the schools. Organized into 16 chapters, this book begins with an overview of the close link between drawing and writing. This text then discusses the character of English education in the 19th century. Other chapters consider the definite views of art and craft education and discuss the regulations for training of teachers for elementary schools. This book discusses as well the progress of art as a subject for the school certificate. The final chapter deals with the methods and findings of psychology that have benefited art education. This book is a valuable resource for art historians, artists, art teachers, art students, and research workers.

THE ART OF TEACHING GILBERT HIGHET, 1950 Art Teaching George Szekely, Julie Alsip Bucknam, 2013-06-17 This comprehensive up-to-date art methods text presents fundamental theories, principles, creative approaches, and resources for art teaching in elementary through middle school.

Art Is Fundamental Eileen S. Prince, 2008-07-01 This comprehensive art curriculum can easily be integrated into any teacher's existing instruction and provides thrilling and rewarding projects for elementary art students including printmaking techniques, tessellations, watercolors, calligraphic lines, organic form, sculptures, and value collages. Detailed lessons developed and tested in classrooms over many years build on one another in a logical progression and explore the elements of texture, color, shape, line, form, and value and principles such as balance, formal, informal, and radial unity, contrast, movement, distortion, emphasis, pattern, and rhythm. Each lesson also represents an interdisciplinary approach that improves general vocabulary and supports science, math, social studies, and language arts. Though written for elementary school teachers, it can be easily condensed and adapted for middle or even high school students. A beautiful eight-page color insert demonstrates just how sophisticated young children's art can be when kids are given the opportunity to develop their skills.

Teaching Talented Art Students Gilbert Clark, Enid Zimmerman, 2004-04-17 Provides information on creating a curriculum and programs for artistically gifted students. Learning About Art Kerry Walsh, 2013-10-12 Kerry Walsh is married with three children. She has an art studio in Minto, NSW, and exhibits her art regularly throughout the Sydney region.

She completed a Visual Arts degree with honours before going on to study for a Master of Creative Arts honours degree with the University of Western Sydney Originally she had been offering art lessons to children and adults from her studio in Minto as well as after school classes for children at Minto Primary School before deciding to go back to University and study for a Bachelor of Teaching Degree at the University of Western Sydney She retired from teaching two years ago to write her book and continue with her art practice However she could not let teaching go and still holds private art classes After teaching in both Primary and Secondary schools she realized how important an informed art lesson is in obtaining the desired academic outcomes from her students Too little research by a student resulted in a superficial art work that had very little depth and offered a discouraging result Students were elated with their art only when they understood in what context it should be made When students researched other artists and realized how different the artists world was compared to the students own it became clear why these artists painted the way they did With this new understanding and through class discussions students were encouraged to look at their own world and to attempt their own art in a more enlightened way Younger students were excited to see how artists thirty fifty or a hundred years ago lived what they liked to paint and how they expressed what was happening around them Second class students were surprised to be confronted by Warhols Soup Cans and wanted to have a go at painting something themselves Students held a class discussion to decide what to paint if they were painting pop art today They discussed what image they would like to paint in a repeated pattern and why The result elephants and they should be coloured elephants like bright colourful neon lights telling everyone to visit the zoo The result of this more inclusive way of presenting art to younger primary school students which included learning basic information about art movements artists and art works and did not simply look at a picture in terms of is it easy to copy or is it colourful and easy to paint implanted an understanding about what art is resulting in a deeper appreciation about art for each student Encouraging a positive reaction about art even at a basic level for younger classes helps students to understand that their own individuality is an essential part of art making No longer should students compare their art to those around them and decide if it is good or bad or they are good at art or bad at art students learn that everyone is an individual and that their art is not only interesting but also creative This discovery raises students self esteem which in turn increases confidence in their own ability to work through ideas unaided creating an art work that is pleasing and imaginative Upper Primary students years 3 6 are enabled by their computer research to better understand the complexities of life in a former time When their teacher links the art they are working on to the historical time the class is looking at themes such as the Australian Gold fields or settling Outback Australia becomes alive when viewed through the art of the times By immersing themselves in the creativity of art making ultimately other aspects of their academic life are enhanced A students confidence is increased as they become aware that their own ideas are important and accepted
