2015 has special significance for regional economic integration. The ASEAN Community integrating the political, economic and social aspects of regional cooperation will complete its first milestone by December 2015. Expectations of tangible benefits under an ASEAN Economic Community have attracted much attention, though many of the initiatives will be realized post 2015. Following the policy of open regionalism, ASEAN has also signed free trade agreements with Australia, New Zealand, China, India, Japan and South Korea. It has launched negotiations for the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership (RCEP) agreement in 2013 with expected breakthrough by end 2015. The Southeast Asian economies are also involved in two other regional initiatives. First is the Trans Pacific Partnership (TPP) initiated by the United States. As part of the U.S. pivot to Asia, the TPP is envisioned as a comprehensive and high quality agreement and has concluded its negotiation in October 2015. Second, the discussions on regional connectivity have broadened. China has emerged as a recent lead proponent with its proposals for One Belt One Road and the Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank. All these together have implications not only for individual Southeast Asian countries but also for regional trading architecture. To aid in understanding the beginnings, development and potential of these grand plans, this collection of 22 essays offers a rich analysis of ASEAN's own economic integration and other related initiatives proliferating in the broader Asia Pacific region.
