Timothy Richard Glander

Communication Researchers And Policy Making:

Communication Researchers and Policy-making Sandra Braman, 2003 A sourcebook on the multiple relationships between the communication research and policy making communities over the last hundred years As the global information infrastructure evolves the field of communication has the opportunity to renew itself while addressing the urgent policy need for new ways of thinking and new data to think about Communication Researchers and Policy making examines diverse relationships between the communication research and policy communities over more than a century and the issues that arise out of those interactions The book provides primary material in the form of reports on such relationships spanning time periods subject matter policy issues decision making venues and governments The essays range from historical pieces on the importance of communication research since the beginning of systematic policy analysis and on the various roles that researchers can play to contemporary analyses of contributions of research to policy debates over network design and access media violence and advertising fraud Substantial interstitial essays by the editor explore the impact of the policy context on communication theories and research practices relationships between researchers and their institutional homes the role of communication researchers as public intellectuals and ways to maximize the impact of communication research on policy making during this period of infrastructural transformation The book includes an extensive bibliography Limitations and Possibilities of Dialogue among Researchers, Policymakers, and Practitioners Mark B. Ginsburg, Jorge Gorostiaga, 2003-12-16 The chapters in this edited volume raise important issues of the relation between research and its various external publics

Mass Communication Research Methods: Researching media institutions, organisations, professionals and production (continued). Political economy (media institutions). The political economy of communications Anders Hansen, 2009

Navigating the Research-Policy Relationship Mark Rickinson, Marcia McKenzie, 2023-09-26 Drawing on studies in environmental and sustainability education this book brings together new work that has explored the research policy interface in varied contexts and from diverse perspectives It will be beneficial to those interested in understanding the interface between research and policy The relationship between research and policy has become an increasing focus for theoretical inquiry empirical investigation and practical development across many different fields This volume highlights new empirical insights theoretical ideas practical examples and methodological approaches for understanding navigating and developing more productive research policy relationships This book will be beneficial to anyone who is interested in understanding the interface between research and policy The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Environmental Education Research Foundations of Communications Policy Philip M. Napoli, 2001 Rapid changes in communication technologies are straining the existing system of electronic media regulation Despite the increasing pace of technological change the electronic media continue to be regulated under a well established set of guiding principles Principles such as the First Amendment the public interest the marketplace of ideas diversity competition localism and universal service continue to serve as the primary objectives for policymakers and as the focal points for contemporary policy controversies This volume focuses on these principles examining their underlying motivations and assumptions their central components their different interpretive approaches and their continued applicability in a rapidly changing electronic media environment Central to this book s analysis is the need for more thorough and rigorous application of these principles as tools for policy analysis rather than primarily as rhetorical devices for justifying policy outcomes Toward this end the book explicitly links each of these principles with communication policy analysis and illustrates how the dynamics of the policymaking process undermine the analytical utility of the foundation principles

Information, an Essential Factor in Educational Planning and Policy George Psacharopoulos,1980 UNESCO pub Monograph on information needs in educational planning and educational policy evaluates the existing state of information systems proposes future alternatives discusses problems encountered in attempting to set up an international information network and includes case studies of information and decision making in developing countries and a directory of information sources in Asia Africa Arab country and Latin America Bibliography pp 242 to 258 diagrams references and statistical tables

Evidence-based Health Policy Vivian Lin,Brendan Gibson,2003 Health policy is a highly contested arena where there have been increasing calls for policy to be more evidence based A central question remains is evidence based health policy possible This book offers a critical perspective on the interplay between generation and policy formulation The purpose of this book is to critique the notion that evidence based medicine can make an unproblematic transformation into evidence approach to health policy that makes use of the best available research in an explicit rigorous and accountable way The book is illustrated by eleven case studies of health policy making that elucidate how evidence is used in particular policy making contexts These case studies provide unique insights from the people who have been involved in the policy process They reveal the complex nature of evidence based research The premise of the book is that although the idea of evidence based health policy holds considerable promise it will not be realised without substantial evaluation of the problems conceptual and practical that beset it

The Policy Paradox in Africa Elias Ayuk,Mohamed Ali Marouani,2007 It provided technical and financial support to economic research centres in sub Sahara Africa SSA so that they can undertake policy relevant research with the goal of influencing economic policy making In January 2005 the Secretariat organized an international conference in Dakar Senegal during which participants from key economic think tanks presented their experiences in the policy development process in Africa Of particular interest was the role of economic research and economic researchers in policy making The authors examine the extent to which economic policies that are formulated in the sub continent draw from research based on local realities and undertaken by local researchers and research networks in Africa
