Abstract

This study examined two groups of students of the University of Nigeria who were taught using two approaches (literature-based and grammar-based) in order to measure the effect of the approaches on their communicative performance. The data comprised 100 essay scripts (50 for each group) qualitatively analysed based on content, expression, organisation and mechanical accuracy; and also quantitatively analysed using SPSS in order to measure the difference between the two groups. The findings show that there are significant differences in the performance of the two groups in favour of the literature-based approach. The study closes with conclusions and recommendations for SLT pedagogy. The findings of this study supports Krashen's (1982) Naturalist Approach to language learning, which has far-reaching implications for the field.

Keywords: communicative performance/competence, language teaching/learning, literature, applied linguistics

Les résultats montrent qu'il existe des différences significatives dans la performance des deux groupes en faveur de l'approche basée sur la littérature. L'étude se termine par des conclusions et des recommandations pour la pédagogie SLT.
