The Community College Reform Movement Milton E. Clarke, 2025-03-04 This book critically examines the rise of the higher education reform movement often referred to as the completion agenda which since the early 2000s has sought to restructure core aspects of the community college experience Using community colleges from across nine U S states as practical examples it explores the major higher education reforms including dual enrollment the demise of developmental education corequisites and performance based funding Against the popular view that support for such policies is tied to neoliberalism it argues for a more nuanced understanding of the complicated and often indistinct ideological foundation of the reform movement demonstrating that supporters and detractors alike draw on similar concepts such as equity student success and affordability This complication is further clarified through an account of the history processes functions and institutions that paved the way for the advent of the higher education reform movement This book is vital reading for anyone interested in the future of community colleges and higher education More generally this book will particularly appeal to scholars researchers and educators working in higher education educational reform and educational policy
