This collection of sixteen essays on the folklore of Newfoundland and Labrador was compiled as a result of seminars first held several and over a number of years, confirming the richness and variety of national assets.

This wealth of ideas, derived from oral tradition over the past two decades, is a comprehensive record of the life and traditions of Newfoundland and Labradorians, offers unique opportunities for research and a fine foundation upon which the future generations of our province and others interested in the culture of this province can base their study and research.
