Arxer,John W. Murphy,2019-09-13 Community Based Health Interventions in an Institutional Context examines challenges of institutionalizing community based health care While the community based or localized model is growing in popularity and importance in the United States in practice it must often be brought in to larger institutions in order to grow to scale The typical goals of an institution standardization formalization and control may be seen as antithetical to those of a community based healthcare provider such as spontaneity customization and flexibility The contributions to this work raise questions about how the community based model can be scaled up through institutions and how institutionalization can be rethought from a bottom up approach They provide not only an overview of community based organizations but also delve into practical topics such as establishing budgets training workers incorporating technology as well as more theoretical topics like goal setting policy effects like the ACA and relationships between patient and community This work will be of interest for researchers interested in exploring the community based health care model as well as practitioners in health care and health policy

The Morehouse Model Ronald L. Braithwaite, Tabia Henry Akintobi, Daniel S. Blumenthal, W. Mary Langley, 2020-06-16 How can the example of Morehouse School of Medicine help other health oriented universities create ideal collaborations between faculty and community based organizations Among the 154 medical schools in the United States Morehouse School of Medicine stands out for its formidable success in improving its surrounding communities Over its history Morehouse has become known as an institution committed to community engagement with an interest in closing the health equity gap between people of color and the white majority population In The Morehouse Model Ronald L Braithwaite and his coauthors reveal the lessons learned over the decades since the school s founding lessons that other medical schools and health systems will be eager to learn in the hope of replicating Morehouse s success Describing the philosophical cultural and contextual grounding of the Morehouse Model they give concrete examples of it in action before explaining how to foster the collaboration between community based organizations and university faculty that is essential to making this model of care and research work Arguing that establishing ongoing collaborative projects requires genuineness transparency and trust from everyone involved the authors offer a theory of citizen participation as a critical element for facilitating behavioral change Drawing on case studies exploratory research surveys interventions and secondary analysis they extrapolate lessons to advance the field of community based participatory research alongside community health Written by well respected leaders in the effort to reduce health inequities The Morehouse Model is rooted in social action and social justice constructs It will be a touchstone for anyone conducting community based participatory research as well as any institution that wants to have a positive effect on its local community
