Cy Twombly's Things Kate Nesin, 2014 Cy Twombly 1928-2011 is widely acknowledged as one of the postwar period's most influential American artists yet his sculptures are little known From 1946 onward he made hundreds of rarely exhibited found object assemblages often painted or plastered over with diverse coatings of white Across decades Twombly thus developed a singular strikingly consistent body of work despite the shifting status of sculpture during his lifetime In this revelatory monograph Kate Nesin first establishes then evaluates the artist's long engagement with the historical and contemporary limits of sculpture both as medium and as word While others have described Twombly's three dimensional works as timeless transcendent and poetic Nesin complicates our sense of their so called poetry focusing on the prosaic conspicuously material operations of these sculptural things and emphasizing the inherent difficulties as well as possibilities of the language used to characterize them Through close readings of individual works and in depth analyses of certain guiding concerns such as surface naming gaps and repetitions she illuminates Twombly's remarkable sculptural practice
