Daras Desire:

The Feminine Principle in the Sikh Vision of the Transcendent Nikky-Guninder Kaur Singh,1993-09-24 This work is a critical analysis of Sikh literature from a feminist perspective It begins with Guru Nanak s vision of Transcendent Reality and concludes with the mystical journey of Rani Raj Kaur the heroine of a modern Punjabi epic The eight chapters of the book approach the Sikh vision of the Transcendent from historical scriptural symbolic mythological romantic existential ethical and mystical perspectives Each of these discloses the centrality of the woman and show convincingly that Sikh Gurus and poets did not want the feminine principle to serve merely as a figure of speech or literary device it was intended rather to pervade the whole life of the Sikhs The present work bolsters the claim that literary symbols should be translated into social and political realities and in so doing puts a valuable feminist interpretation on a religious tradition which has remained relatively unexplored in scholarly literature Journal of the Panjab Historical Society ,1923 Journal of the Panjab Historical Society Panjab Historical Society,1923 List of members in v 1 4 6 Ten Lectures on a Diachronic Constructionalist Approach to Discourse Structuring Markers Elizabeth Closs Traugott,2022-01-31 To date little work has been done on pragmatics within cognitive linguistics especially from a historical perspective The lectures presented in this volume give the first systematic account of how pragmatics can be incorporated into cognitive linguistics using a Diachronic Construction Grammar perspective The author combines detailed study of the historical development of Discourse Structuring Markers like all the same after all and by the way and propose ways in which to model them A number of topics are addressed including what a usage based approach to language change is differences between innovation and change how to think about analogy and networks how combinations of Discourse Structuring Markers like now then became a unit and whether clause initial and final positions are constructions Refinements of Diachronic Construction Grammar are proposed and tested The Christian virgin in her family and in the world Christian virgin,1890 Sentimental Songs, Melodrama and Filmic Narrative in Bollywood's Golden Age (1951-1963) Jasmine Sofia Jannif,2026-01-13 The considerably large critical literature on Bollywood cinema is marked by an absence as it has not engaged fully with the ways in which songs lead to the memorial construction of films and how a spectator connects with films through their songs The studies tended to deflect the emotional dimension of songs their internal lyrical structure and their intertextual connections in favour of readings that treat songs as subsidiary to other formal elements Consequently there was little understanding of songs and their complex relationship with the narrative of the film To address this absence this book begins by taking a look at the prior history of Bollywood songs since the arrival of talkies with the film Alam Ara 1931 The chapter takes the reader through the journey of film songs from synchronous singing and music during production to non diegetic music and the playback singer In addition the somewhat disparate filmic milieu of history emotion and ethics much of which are drawn from traditional texts served to affirm the values of a secular India Melodrama mediated via Indian theories of sentimentality became one of the key colonial discourses through which the politico social order was critiqued and Indianness celebrated The book then raises the question Can one speak about periods After defending periodisation in this instance because it does have heuristic value the argument is given added support by positing melodrama as the dominant dramatic mode of Indian Hindi Bollywood cinema of the Golden Age The term melodrama is used to designate a film genre marked by sentimental songs that appeal to the heightened emotions of the spectator Because emotionality is central to the concept of melodrama a consideration of how emotions may be theorised is also given The Indian classical concept of rasa is examined to provide a theoretical frame that is both historical and indigenous Sentimental and melodramatic emotion ultimately enhanced cinema s ethical role in building a post colonial nation a nation that was emerging from the trauma of partition as well as the excesses of colonisation However by focusing with holistic lens on the period in question the Golden Age the book finesses the value of periodisation in this instance Frame analyses of a sample of song sequences from a variety of films are used to demonstrate the roles of various song registers and the way these different registers as identified in the appendices work within the narrative The argument for a connection between songs and narrative in the period is strengthened by an examination of the elements of song picturisation most notably body movement mise en sc nes lyrics vocal expression lighting shots and music A close examination of these elements reinforced the links between felt emotion and the melodramatic form in the Golden Age Furthermore it is argued that while Indian theories of emotional responses notably rasa theory recognised the place of cathartic outpouring in any dramatic presentation the shape and structure of Bollywood cinema was indebted to the melodramatic imaginary that came to India with British colonisation The archival material on English novels read in colonial times indicated that novels dealing with the man of feeling novels such as Henry Mackenzie s The Man of Feeling 1771 and Oliver Goldsmith s The Vicar of Wakefield 1766 provided the melodramatic structures within which native structures of feeling as in the varied rasas may be given felt presence That structure and its emotional pulling power dictated cinema and especially the cinema of the Golden Age There are direct links between Devdas 1935 a seminal film based on a sentimental Bengali novel and Pyaasa 1957 and these links speak to the presence of English discourses of sentimentality Such was their pervasive power indeed their affective intensities and strength that no film of the Golden Age of Bollywood escaped from their enervating and ineluctable presence The argument of the book as indicated above is followed through with references to many films The instance of the Islamicate film Mughal e Azam 1960 is taken up as an example of the power and pervasiveness of the melodramatic temper and the role of songs even when the cinematic genre is that of an epic A close paradigmatic reading of this film shows how the evocative power of sentimentality emotional capital and the genre of melodrama invades an historical narrative and transforms history To give greater depth to the place of songs sentimentality and melodrama the book turns to the two exceptional auteurs of the Golden Age Raj Kapoor and Guru Dutt Between them these two auteurs demonstrate a range of filmic articulations of songs in Hindi cinema and their films illustrate in an exemplary fashion the role of songs in carrying the melodramatic and sentimental narrative of a film The Hindi film auteur as producer director and actor not only imposes his special style on his films but is visible on the screen itself This book is primarily concerned with songs from the Golden Age of Hindi cinema 1951-1963 a period in Hindi film history when emotion sentiment and melodrama were regularly combined to create affective intensities The registers moods and in some cases ragas of songs have been examined over a broad corpus of examples to identify their effect on the spectator their role in the narrative of the film and their thematisation associated with specific emotional states In so doing the book theorises sentimentality and melodrama in the context of Hindi film songs to more fully identify the nature of sentimentality and to more fully understand the way songs play a role in the melodramatic form

New Perspectives on Historical Latin Syntax: Constituent syntax : adverbial phrases, adverbs, mood, tense Philip Baldi, Pierluigi Cuzzolin, 2009 New Perspectives on Historical Latin Syntax is a methodologically uniform multi-authored work that traces main currents in the syntactic history of Latin The term history of Latin or of any other ancient IE language in its most widespread usage means history of phonology and morphology as they have developed from PIE Standard comparative grammars of Latin have concentrated primarily on the development of the phonological and morphological systems of the language with comparatively little attention paid to historical syntax This emphasis is reflective of the Indo-European tradition in which

Constituent Syntax: Adverbial Phrases, Adverbs, Mood, Tense Philip Baldi, Pierluigi Cuzzolin, 2010-07-19 New Perspectives on Historical Latin Syntax Constituent Syntax Adverbial Phrases Adverbs Mood Tense is the second of four volumes dealing with the long-term evolution of Latin syntax roughly from the 4th century BCE up to the 6th century CE This volume along with Volume 3 comprises chapters dealing with structure and evolution of syntactic phenomena below the level of the sentence Topics treated in this volume include adverbs adverbial phrases mood modality and tense aspect Chapters are distinguished by their depth of treatment clear style and ample illustration with original citations Their readability is enhanced by the non-technical presentation which characterizes all volumes in the set Key features first publication to investigate the long-term syntactic history of Latin generally accessible to linguists and non-linguists theoretically coherent formulated in functional typological terms does not require reading fluency in Latin since all examples are translated into English
