Darwin Nature Reinterpreted:

Darwin, Nature Reinterpreted Piero Ventura, Gian Paolo Ceserani, Marisa Murgo, 1995 A picture book that explores the life and revolutionary theories of Darwin

Growing with the Grain Patricia A. Emison, 2005

Text Sets Joanne Kilgour Dowdy, Rachael Fleischaker, 2018-07-17 Text Sets Multimodal Learning for Multicultural Students integrates a multicultural approach to teaching with standards based instruction and multimodal learning opportunities in a variety of content areas This unique combination allows teachers to meet the demands of their curriculum while recognizing and honoring the diverse students in their classroom Each chapter provides an annotated text set with a specific theme curricular goals and instructional activities that suggest ways for students to interact with the texts In addition to providing ready made text sets it models a framework for teachers to build their own text sets based on the individual needs of their schools and communities

Dickens and Heredity G. Morgentaler, 1999-11-10 Despite the modern obsession with genetics and reproductive technology very little has been written about Dickens s fascination with heredity nor the impact that this fascination had on his novels Dickens and Heredity is an attempt to rectify that omission by describing the hereditary theories that were current in Dickens s time and how these are reflected in his fiction The book also argues that Dickens jettisoned his earlier belief in the prescriptive and deterministic potential of heredity after Darwin published The Origin of the Species in 1859

Reinterpreting Exploration Dane Keith Kennedy, 2014 Exploration was a central and perhaps defining aspect of the West s encounters with other peoples and lands Rather than reproduce celebratory narratives of individual heroism and national glory this volume focuses on exploration s instrumental role in shaping a European sense of exceptionalism and its iconic importance in defining the terms of cultural engagement with other peoples In chapters offering broad geographic range the contributors address many of the key themes of recent research on exploration including exploration s contribution to European imperial expansion Western scientific knowledge Enlightenment ideas and practices and metropolitan print culture They reassess indigenous peoples responses upon first contacts with European explorers their involvement as intermediaries in the operations of expeditions and the complications that their prior knowledge posed for European claims of discovery Underscoring that exploration must be seen as a process of mediation between representation and reality this book provides a fresh and accessible introduction to the ongoing reinterpretation of exploration s role in the making of the modern world

A History of American Thought 1860-2000 Daniel Wickberg, 2023-09-07 This book is a comprehensive overview of the history of modern American thought and examines a wide range of modern thought and thinkers from 1860 when Charles Darwin s Origin of Species was published in the United States to the end of the twentieth century The focus of this volume is on the destabilizing effects of modern challenges to notions of fixed order and absolute truths and the contradictory consequences for philosophical political social and aesthetic thought The intellectual response to the unprecedented changes of this era produced visions of both liberation from the hierarchies of the past and new forms of control and constraint One of the central contradictions in modern thought was between biological and cultural ideas of social psychological and moral order This is the first work to provide an interpretive vision of the entire period under consideration Topics covered include evolutionary thought philosophical Pragmatism ideas of race and gender pluralism and cultural relativism Cold War Liberalism science and religion feminist thought evolutionary psychology and the late twentieth century Culture Wars Thinkers from William James and Charlotte Perkins Gilman through Judith Butler and Cornel West are analyzed as historical figures This volume is an ideal resource for a general audience as well as undergraduate and graduate students in the field of American intellectual history

Literature and the Child Bernice E. Cullinan, Lee Galda, 1998 With a slender design and appealing art Cullinan and Galda present a thought provoking discussion on how children can read to respond read to learn and read to enjoy This text provides evaluation criteria for selecting superior children's books rather than listing thousands of titles and synopses Booklists direct readers to quality literature and extended discussions of selected titles demonstrate the selection criteria Multicultural literature is discussed throughout the text with a separate chapter on more specific multicultural issues Numerous teaching ideas many of which are contributed by classroom teachers provide practical applications This is a book for teachers stressing the use of good books in a literature based curriculum
