Duke City Tales:

Duke City Tales Harry Willson, 1986      The Missionary's Curse and Other Tales from a Chinese Catholic Village Henrietta Harrison, 2013-06 The Missionary's Curse tells the story of a Chinese village that has been Catholic since the seventeenth century drawing direct connections between its history the globalizing church and the nation Harrison recounts the popular folk tales of merchants and peasants who once adopted Catholic rituals and teachings for their own purposes only to find themselves in conflict with the orthodoxy of Franciscan missionaries arriving from Italy The village's long religious history combined with the similarities between Chinese folk religion and Italian Catholicism forces us to rethink the extreme violence committed in the area during the Boxer Uprising The author also follows nineteenth century Chinese priests who campaigned against missionary control up through the founding of the official church by the Communist Party in the 1950s Harrison's in depth study provides a rare insight into villager experiences during the Socialist Education Movement and Cultural Revolution as well as the growth of Christianity in China in recent years She makes the compelling argument that Catholic practice in the village rather than adopting Chinese forms in a gradual process of acculturation has in fact become increasingly similar to those of Catholics in other parts of the world      Haunted Albuquerque Cody Polston, 2021 When the railroad arrived in Albuquerque in 1880 a whole new town of stores and saloons sprouted along the tracks in tents and shacks But just like the original settlement which came to be known as Old Town the additional districts produced their fair share of macabre tales and ghostly lore At the KiMo Theater the crew still leaves out donuts for the tragic young victim of a 1951 water heater explosion A mysterious woman in a black dress visits the bar at the Old Albuquerque Press Club with an apparent hankering for gin From inexplicable occurrences at the Old Bernalillo County Courthouse to infamous residents of the Fairview Cemetery Cody Polston gathers enough of Albuquerque's haunted heritage to entertain the most dismissive skeptic      Crosswinds Michael A. Thomas, 1987 As the last vestiges of rural western values collapse Rodney Gardner's struggles to be a sane sober hardworking citizen only draw him deeper into trouble This darkly comic story of a young man with low impulse control exposes the duplicities of modern society which crush all that is unique and genuine in rural southeastern New Mexico Back cover      Tales of the World's Hottest Cities MD Sharr, 2025-04-24 Tales of the World's Hottest Cities is a vivid collection born from a simple idea to explore how people live in extreme heat The book challenges stereotypes of desert places as lifeless or remote offering rich portraits of cities from the Middle East Africa South Asia and the Americas Through everyday stories it reveals how residents adapt creatively to harsh climates using smart architecture changing routines and leaning on community Each chapter captures the unique culture struggles and joys of life under the sun showing how environment shapes human experience With a warm conversational tone the book invites readers from students to travelers to see beyond tourist snapshots and appreciate the resilience and beauty in these overheated cities More than just travel writing it's a human centered narrative of endurance and ingenuity in the face of heat reminding us that even the most intense climates can nurture thriving communities deep traditions and lasting hope Land Values ,1912
