Kilts on the Coast Jan Peterson,2012-02-15 When the Hudson's Bay Company decided to establish its new Pacific coast headquarters at Fort Victoria on Vancouver Island in 1843 the Island was a pristine paradise or an isolated wilderness depending on one's point of view that had sustained its First Nations inhabitants for millennia It was one of the last places to be discovered and settled by Europeans in North America It was Scots who came to the Island to manage the Company's business in Fort Victoria engaging in the fur trade and establishing coal mining ventures around what is now Nanaimo where black diamonds were found in abundance From founding father James Douglas and other high placed Company men to the humble miners from Orkney and Ayrshire who were brought over on harsh voyages around Cape Horn to work Nanaimo s mines the Scottish influence on the young Colony of Vancouver Island was indelible Nanaimo author and historian Jan Peterson focuses on events and people who sparked settlement and growth in BC s first Crown Colony over six critical years 1848 to 1854 and delves deep into the roots of the Island s Scottish presence tracing the lives of such pioneers as Dr William Tolmie Robert Dunsmuir and their descendants The Haunting of Vancouver Island Shanon Sinn,2017-10-10 A compelling investigation into supernatural events and local lore on Vancouver Island Vancouver Island is known worldwide for its arresting natural beauty but those who live here know that it is also imbued with a palpable supernatural energy Researcher Shanon Sinn found his curiosity piqued by stories of mysterious sightings on the island ghosts sasquatches sea serpents but he was disappointed in the sensational and sometimes disrespectful way they were being retold or revised Acting on his desire to transform these stories from unsubstantiated gossip to thoroughly researched accounts Sinn uncovered fascinating details identified historical inconsistencies and now retells these encounters as accurately as possible Investigating 25 spellbinding tales that wind their way from the south end of the island to the north Sinn explored hauntings in cities in the forest and on isolated logging roads In addition to visiting castles inns and cemeteries he followed the trail of spirits glimpsed on mountaintops beaches and water and visited Heriot Bay Inn on Quadra Island and the Schooner Restaurant in Tofino to personally scrutinize reports of hauntings Featuring First Nations stories from each of the three Indigenous groups who call Vancouver Island home the Coast Salish the Nuu chah nulth and the Kwakwaka wakw the book includes an interview with Hereditary Chief James Swan of Ahousaht When Coal Was King John Hinde,2011-11-01 The town of Ladysmith was one of the most important coal mining communities on Vancouver Island during the early twentieth century The Ladysmith miners had a reputation for radicalism and militancy and engaged in bitter struggles for union recognition and economic justice most notably the Great Strike of 1912 14 This strike one of the longest and most violent labour disputes in Canadian history marked a watershed in the history of the town and the coal industry This book explains the origins of the 1912 14 strike by examining the development of the coal industry on Vancouver Island the founding of Ladysmith the experience of work and safety in the mines the process of political and economic mobilization and how these factors contributed to the development of identity and community While the Vancouver Island coal industry and the strike have been the focus of a number of popular histories this book goes beyond to emphasize the importance of class ethnicity gender and community in creating the conditions for the emergence and mobilization of the working class population Informed by current academic debates on the matter and within the discipline this readable history takes into account extensive archival research and will appeal to historians and others interested in the history of Vancouver Island Canada's Entrepreneurs John English,2011-01-01
